

Sample personal reflective essay

When I think of my childhood and my mother, I immediately think about the kind of learning processes that I have been through. Some of my learning experiences have been very Pavlovian in nature, when I would learn to associate certain sounds and expressions with different events and proceedings. Other times, I have been acutely aware of the reinforcement theories - such as those used by Skinner - which my mother used to use on me to make me learn things. For example, I remember that I would get a rap on the back of my hand for touching the electric cable that would hang from the electric iron. When this happened a few times, I would then never touch it since I knew that my mother would hit my hand and I did not want to be hit. I think all of these things that my mother did with me ended up in making up the personality and the identity that I have today.

Personal identity, according to John Perry, can be divided into three areas, the body, the memory and the soul. John Perry's "A Dialogue on Personal Identity and Immortality" discusses these aspects of personal identity and these three parts of the 'self'. I feel that I am also in touch with these realities of my own identity. I know that the body that I have is the same one that I have always possessed. It has changed considerable since I was born but it is still the same body. I remember looking at myself when I was a little child and wondering how long would be till I can be tall enough to look in the mirror without having to stand up on a stool and how I would look when I grow up. Now that I am grown up and I look at myself in the mirror, I wonder exactly how I must have looked to myself when I was a little child. It is all so strange that a person wants to grow up so quickly when one is a child but then wants to stay young forever. Sometimes I end up wishing that I was a child again so that I do not have to do all the things that I have to do. Sometimes I wish that I can just run back into time and become the irresponsible, simple little girl that I used to be.

Write With Me Lynda Sentz,2013-10-18 In this book teacher and author

Lynda Wade Sentz presents innovative strategies for involving parents in their children's writing instruction. Elementary school teachers can use these strategies to expand writing instruction into the home and enlist parents as writing role models who help to reinforce classroom learning. Designed for use in conjunction with your current writing program, these activities are engaging and enjoyable. They include the Partner Journal and the Partner Scrapbook along with several others that enable parents and children to communicate via the written word.

The Complete Idiot's Guide to Publishing Magazine Articles Jennifer Basye Sander, Sheree Bykofsky, 2000-06-14 You're no idiot of course. You have a reporter's eye, a poet's touch, and you absolutely love to write. Stories, journal entries, letters to the editor, you name it, you know you can write it. But when it comes to selling your ideas to magazines, newspapers, and web sites, you feel like the less said the better. Seeing your words and wisdom printed in black and white seems like a lot more trouble than it's worth. Don't write yourself off just yet. The Complete Idiot's Guide to Publishing Magazine Articles will help you get where you belong. In Print. In this Complete Idiot's Guide, you get answers to all your questions: Who hires writers? What newspaper, magazine, and online editors want from freelancers and how much they might pay for it? How to write effective query and pitch letters? How the internet can help your writing career take off.

The Longwood Guide to Writing Ronald F. Lunsford, Charles W. Bridges, Bill Bridges, 2004-06 Reflecting the author's fifty years of combined teaching experience, The Longwood Guide to Writing is among the most accessible, up-to-date, and authoritative aims-based rhetorics on the market.
