

What are the 4 Types of Parenting Styles?

Find out which parenting style works best for kids

High Expectations

Authoritative

- Provides reasons for equitable rules and allows children to make their own decisions within those boundaries
- Warmly supports children to achieve high expectations and overcome challenges
- Creates a mutually respectful relationship where children learn to judge situations for themselves and are set up for successful decision-making as they grow older

Authoritarian

- Holds children to rigid rules without explanation or flexibility
- Coerces children's behavior by withholding approval, or using sarcasm and ridicule
- Often creates a strained relationship where children may rebel, resent parents, struggle making decisions for themselves, or have lower self-esteem

High Warmth

Permissive

- Have lax and inconsistent expectations and rules
- Overindulge children in an effort to be liked by or considered a friend to them
- Prone to fostering impulsive, aggressive children who have low expectations for themselves

Low Warmth

Neglectful

- Absent or willfully uninvolved – provides little to no warmth, guidance, or nurture
- Indifferent to their child's physical or emotional needs, friends, or activities
- Leaves children with unmet needs, resulting in lower happiness levels and behavior problems

Low Expectations

Recommendations For Parenting S 4:

WHO guidelines on parenting interventions to prevent maltreatment and enhance parent-child relationships with children aged 0-17 years World Health Organization, 2022-02-10 Child maltreatment is a global public health problem. It can have detrimental and long-lasting effects on the development and health of children and occurs most frequently at the hands of parents and caregivers. These guidelines provide evidence-based recommendations on parenting interventions for parents and caregivers of children aged 0-17 years that are designed to reduce child maltreatment and harsh parenting, enhance the parent-child relationship, and prevent poor parent mental health and child emotional and behavioural problems. The guidelines are relevant to low, middle, and high-income countries in all world regions. The recommendations in these guidelines are intended for a wide audience, including policy makers, development agencies, and implementing partners: government health and social workers and nongovernmental organizations.

Transforming Systems for Parental Depression and Early Childhood Developmental Delays Dana Schultz, Kerry A. Reynolds, Lisa M. Sontag-Padilla, Susan L. Lovejoy, Ray Firth, 2013-03-14 The Helping Families Raise Healthy Children initiative addressed depression among parents of children with early childhood developmental delays, aligning the early intervention and behavioral health systems with a focus on relationship-based care. The initiative focused on identification of at-risk families, referral, and engagement in services that addressed the needs of parents and young children in the context of their relationship.

Plant Breeding Reviews, Volume 9 Jules Janick, 2010-04-20 Plant Breeding Reviews is an ongoing series presenting state-of-the-art review articles on research in plant genetics, especially the breeding of commercially important crops. Articles perform the valuable function of collecting, comparing, and contrasting the primary journal literature in order to form an overview of the topic. This detailed analysis bridges the gap between the specialized researcher and the broader community of plant scientists.

Motivational Interviewing with Families Douglas C. Smith, 2025-06-24 While motivational interviewing (MI) was developed as a counseling approach for individuals, it also has tremendous utility for helping families change and grow. This book offers the first comprehensive guide to adapting MI skills to engage families, including reluctant members in therapy, and mobilize family-level change processes. Extensive annotated sample dialogues show how MI can be integrated with any therapy approach for families struggling with mental health problems, addictions, relationship challenges, difficult life transitions, or other concerns. Special features include boxed sidebars, reflection questions, and practice exercises. The Appendix and companion website provide additional helpful resources for using MI with families. This book is in the Applications of Motivational Interviewing series, edited by Stephen Rollnick, William R. Miller, and Theresa B. Moyers.

Silent Exodus--Parents' Silent Suffering Matthew Richard Sheldon Todd, 2025-05-08 The broad cultural phenomenon of youth dechurched is often accompanied by stories of broken-hearted parents. The objective of this book is to consider ways immigrant parents are impacted by generational assimilation and dechurched from ethno-religious communities. The original contribution of the book is in substantiating parents experience from a spectrum of impacts The author explores ways impact is intensified or minimized Are you looking to improve your understanding of the risks and opportunities of handing on the faith Have you been wrestling with the cultural assimilation of your children Have you wondered how a biblical and interdisciplinary framework might help parents understand and even avert dechurching Are you looking for supportive approaches for parents experiencing generational disconnect and difficult parenting transitions The author discloses cultural myths that circulate on parenting and advocates improving support for parents struggling to spiritually launch their children This book provides strategies for encountering transitional family complications if a youth leaves the faith and church
