WORKSHEET

Global Population Distribution

Global population distribution shows global population density and distribution. Density is the number of people living in a given area.

Population Density

- The world's population is unevenly distributed across the globe.
- The majority of the world's population lives in the Northern Hemisphere.
- The majority of the world's population lives in the Eastern Hemisphere.
- The majority of the world's population lives in the Southern Hemisphere.
- The majority of the world's population lives in the Western Hemisphere.

Population Density and Distribution

Some areas of the world are densely populated (crowded), with many people living in a small area. Other areas are sparsely populated (empty), with few people living in a large area.

Factors influencing where people live:

Physical Environment: Climate, Relief, Accessibility
Human Environment: Activities, Services, Infrastructure, Accessibility

Population Density

Population Density: The number of people living in a given area. It is calculated by dividing the total population by the total area.
