Process Com Pour Les Managers:

Process Management Jörg Becker, Martin Kugeler, Michael Rosemann, 2013-06-05 Process Management is a comprehensive compendium for the contemporary design of process oriented organizations. It presents a proven methodology for the introduction and sustainable management of business processes. This book discusses each phase of a business process lifecycle model in the light of current research. A continuous case study provides interesting insights into the actual experiences with this lifecycle model and adds to the credibility of the presented contents. This also includes recommendations which are summarized in pragmatic checklists for each stage of the project. This book is of relevance for business analysts, business process managers, consultants and all practitioners dealing with the analysis and re design of business processes. It is also a valuable resource for lecturers and students in the disciplines of Business Information Systems and Engineering.

Each volume is organized to provide easy reference so that the practitioner can speedily extract up to date information and knowledge about the global construction industry.

Managing the Construction Enterprise Volume One Covers the firm and its business environment, markets and marketing, human resource management, strategic planning and quality management. Managing the Construction Project Volume Two focuses upon productivity, procurement, international projects and human issues in relation to management performance of construction organisations. Managing Risk Volume Two incorporates discussion of risk away from regulation by government and those safety risks inherent in the construction process. Managing Construction Information Volume Three published in conjunction with Construct IT Centre of Excellence incorporates material on information systems and methods, application of IT to the design and construction processes and how IT theory and applications are best transmitted to students and practitioners. The work represents a collation of wide ranging ideas and theory about construction and how research has contributed to the development of the industry on a global application of research to the problems of the construction industry.

Projects as Arenas for Renewal and Learning Processes Rolf A. Lundin,Christophe Midler,2012-12-06 There is a growing tendency to organize various aspects of business life by projects and to set up temporary organizations in a competition where speed and adaptability becomes a major necessity Organizing by projects is perceived as a good way to ensure action and to stress the importance of getting work done However there is a need to balance the stress on action so that learning capabilities are not only retained but augmented Projects as Arenas for Renewal and Learning Processes provides examples of how different types of projects function from a learning or renewal perspective taken from a wide variety of real life environments in industrial and public organizations This book illustrates the mistaken habit of assuming too much in the project area for example project notions are in fact culture dependent classical market oriented contracting business relations do not fit with the learning dimension of projects and long term learning on core competencies and product development projects need to be connected The book is also intended to represent many of the research frontiers in the project field Enhancing learning capabilities is or should be of a mutual concern to researchers and managers alike
