Sa National Defence Force Application Forms 2015

Malcolm N. Shaw

Sa National Defence Force Application Forms 2015:

Researching the Military Helena Carreiras, Celso Castro, Sabina Frederic, 2016-03-02 Researching the Military focuses on the experiences of researchers who study the military around the world. It explores the historical, social, institutional, and personal factors that frame research and scrutinize the way knowledge in this area impacts society and policy. More than merely analyzing research experiences yet necessarily including them, it is also about the experiences of researchers, their position with regard to the object of their studies, the institutional context where they work, and the way their research impacts the academic and policy making fields in the respective countries. The common theme to the various chapters is reflexivity, a conscious effort at addressing the conditions of research and the position of the researcher and the research participants in that interface. By collecting diverse experiences of researchers from across the world, this volume aims to enhance reflexivity in the field of military studies and to encourage the exchange of knowledge between the academic field and the military arena. This book will be of much interest to students of military studies, research methods, sociology, social anthropology, and security studies in general.

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security, political, and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented, and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed, and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment, and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention, military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment, gender equality, and mainstreaming the rise of military unions, and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged. HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence, security, and civil-military relations of countries around the world.

International Clinical Sociology Jan Marie Fritz, 2020-12-22 Clinical sociology is a multidisciplinary field that seeks to improve life situations for individuals and groups. This book showcases the art and science of clinical sociology from around the world. It is the first book to present basic clinical sociology diagrams and models in addition to detailed histories of clinical sociology in the United States, Quebec, France, and Japan. A range of interventions are discussed in light of a region's economic, social, political, and disciplinary history. The book presents illustrative case studies from leaders in the field and it serves the need of graduate-level courses from around the world.

Private Military and Security Contractors Gary Schaub, Jr., Ryan Kelty, 2016-06-16 In Private

Military and Security Contractors PMSCs a multinational team of scholars and experts address a developing phenomenon controlling the use of privatized force by states in international politics Robust analyses of the evolving multi layered tapestry of formal and informal mechanisms of control address the microfoundations of the market such as the social and role identities of contract employees their acceptance by military personnel and potential tensions between them The extent and willingness of key states South Africa the United States Canada the United Kingdom and Israel to monitor and enforce discipline to structure their contractual relations with PMSCs on land and at sea is examined as is the ability of the industry to regulate itself Also discussed is the nascent international legal regime to reinforce state and industry efforts to encourage effective practices punish inappropriate behavior and shape the market to minimize the hazards of loosening states oligopolistic control over the means of legitimate organized violence The volume presents a theoretically informed synthesis of micro and macro levels of analysis offering new insights into the challenges of controlling the agents of organized violence used by states for scholars and practitioners alike

Peacekeeping in Africa Marco Jowell, 2018-02-21 In recent decades African states have developed an impressive infrastructure for training their peacekeepers In addition peacekeeping peacebuilding and associated areas of conflict resolution have become significant areas of employment Marco Jowell has spent a decade working in peacekeeping training in East Africa initially as one of the foreign Technical Advisers at the Peace Support Operations PSO training centre in Kenya the International Peace Support Training Centre IPSTC and subsequently as a strategic adviser to the Rwanda Peace Academy Using first hand experience he considers how military forces from a variety of African states with great differences in history language and political systems and with militaries with different cultures and capabilities can conduct complicated multinational peacekeeping operations He shows how regional peacekeeping training centres provide an environment for African elites predominately military to interact with each other through shared training and experiences This process of interaction or socialisation improves skills but also encourages cohesion so that future African led missions will be managed by well trained officers who are comfortable and willing to work within a regional or Pan African framework Jowell shows that part of the aim of peacekeeping training centres is to foster a Pan African outward looking ideology or disposition as well as improving technical ability This book will be essential reading for all involved with African military and security studies and analysts of peacekeeping training and operations

Regional Powers and Contested Leadership Hannes Ebert, Daniel Flemer, 2018-03-19 When do rising powers fail to establish legitimate regional leadership and instead face contestation by their regional challengers This book investigates how and why the BRICS Brazil Russia India China and South Africa project leadership in South America post Soviet Eurasia South and Southeast Asia and sub Saharan Africa respectively and in what ways their main regional challengers respond Based on a systematic conceptualization of the types and drivers of leadership and contestation the authors assess the impact of the rise of regional powers on weaker states security sovereignty and status as well as the consequences of contestation for regional economic development and stability and the regional powers bid for greater voice in global governance By illuminating the sources and effects of power politics in five regions that are increasingly pivotal for the emerging world order the volume offers a global comparative analysis of contemporary regional contested leadership that will interest scholars and students of international affairs foreign policy and area studies Gender and the Law of the Sea Irini Papanicolopulu,2019-05-07 Listen to the podcast with Nilufer Oral on Climate Change Oceans and Gender In Gender and the Law of the Sea a distinguished group of law of the sea and feminist scholars critically engages with one of the oldest fields of international law While the law of the sea has been traditionally portrayed as a technical gender neutral set of rules of concern to States rather than humans authors in this volume persuasively argue that critical feminist perspectives are needed to question the underlying assumptions of ostensibly gender neutral norms Coming at a time when the presence of women at sea is increasing the volume forcefully and successfully argues that legal rules are relevant to ensure gender equality and the empowerment of women at sea in an effort to render law for the oceans more inclusive See inside the book Annual Report South Africa.
