Child Soldiers as Agents of War and Peace Leonie Steinl, 2017-08-19 This book deals with child soldiers involvement in crimes under international law Child soldiers are often victims of grave human rights abuses and yet in some cases they also participate actively in inflicting violence upon others Nonetheless the international discourse on child soldiers often tends to ignore the latter dimension of children s involvement in armed conflict and instead focuses exclusively on their role as victims While it might seem as though the discourse is therefore beneficial for child soldiers as it protects them from blame and responsibility it is important to realize that the so called passive victim narrative entails various adverse consequences which can hinder the successful reintegration of child soldiers into their families communities and societies This book aims to address this dilemma First the available options for dealing with child soldiers participation in crimes under international law such as transitional justice and criminal justice and their shortcomings are analyzed in depth Subsequently a new approach is developed towards achieving accountability in a child adequate way which is called restorative transitional justice This book is in the first place aimed at researchers with an interest in child soldiers children and armed conflict as well as international criminal law transitional justice juvenile justice restorative justice children s rights and international human rights law Secondly professionals working on issues of transitional justice juvenile justice international criminal law children s rights and the reintegration of child soldiers will also find the subject matter of great relevance to their practice Dr Leonie Steinl LL M Columbia is a Researcher and Lecturer at the Faculty of Law of the Humboldt Universit t in Berlin

The Rebellion of Forms in Modern Persian Poetry Farshad Sonboldel, 2024-02-08 An analysis of the aesthetic cultural and political aspects of alternative poetic movements and individual poets in three periods the Constitutional Revolution 1900 1920 the post constitutional era 1920 1940 and the ascendancy of modernism 1940 1960 Farshad Sonboldel shines new light on the history of modern Persian poetry by re imagining the roles that the aesthetic experimentations of alternative poets played in different phases of the literary revolution in modern Persian poetry Dominant narratives portray modern Persian poetry as a gradual rational and moderate change in the classical regime of aesthetics as well as a response to and reflection of cultural and socio political changes within Iranian society They also disregard the significance of radical experiments by alternative poets and undervalue the part they played in the initiation and progress of the so called literary revolution These mainstream narratives minimize the socio political engagement of literary works with the direct reflection of the social reality and thus neglect the way many alternative poems struggle with socio political issues through deconstructing the old and constructing new aesthetic systems Each chapter of The Rebellion of Forms in Modern Persian Poetry is centred around poems chosen for their potential to showcase notable experiments of pioneer movements and individuals in each given period Examining the formal and thematic aspects of these poems this book reformulates the story of modern Persian poetry and unravels the relationship between radical aesthetic changes in the practice of poetry and resistance against political and cultural domination in society

Written Under the Skin Carli Coetzee, 2019 In this book the author argues that a younger generation of South Africans is developing important and innovative ways of understanding South African pasts and that challenge the narratives that have over the last decades been informed by notions of forgiveness and reconciliation The author uses the image of history rich blood to explore these approaches to intergenerational memory Blood under the skin is a carrier of embodied and gendered histories and using this image the chapters revisit older archives as well as analyse contemporary South African cultural and literary forms The emphasis on blood challenges the privileged status skin has had as explanatory category in thinking about identity and instead emphasises intergenerational transfer and continuity The argument is that a younger generation is disputing and debating the terms through which to understand contemporary South Africa as well as for interpreting the legacies of the past that remain under the visible layer of skin The chapters each concern blood Mandela s prison cell as laboratory for producing bloodless freedom the kinship relations created and resisted in accounts of Eugene de Kock in prison Ruth First s concern with information leaks in her accounts of her time in prison the first human to human heart transplant and its relation to racialised attempts to salvage white identity the Fallist moment Abantu book festival and activist scholarship and creative art works that use blood as trope for thinking about change and continuity Carli Coetzee is Editor of the Journal of African Cultural Studies Her publications include Accented Futures Language Activism and the Ending of Apartheid Wits University Press 2013 and the edited collection Afropolitanism Reboot Routledge 2017 She co edited The Handbook of African Literature Routledge 2019 with Moradewun Adejunmobi and Negotiating the Past The Making of Memory in South Africa Oxford University Press 1998 with Sarah Nuttall Southern Africa South Africa Namibia Lesotho Zimbabwe and Swaziland Wits University Press

Fixing Gender Assistant Professor of Gender Peace and Security Aiko Holvikivi, 2024-07-24 Through an ethnographic study of gender training practices in peacekeeping institutions Aiko Holvikivi examines how gender is conceptualised taught and learned in these settings and with what political effects She finds that this training constitutes a deeply ambivalent practice from the point of view of intersectional feminist political commitments Drawing on queer and postcolonial feminist thought Fixing Gender examines the contradictory politics of gender training arguing that we need to develop the analytical tools to grapple with paradoxical practices that are simultaneously good and bad feminist politics      Give a Man a Fish James Ferguson, 2015-05-09 In Give a Man a Fish James Ferguson examines the rise of social welfare programs in southern Africa in which states make cash payments to their low income citizens More than thirty percent of South Africa's population receive such payments even as pundits elsewhere proclaim the neoliberal death of the welfare state These programs successes at reducing poverty under conditions of mass unemployment Ferguson argues provide an opportunity for rethinking contemporary capitalism and for developing new forms of political mobilization Interested in an emerging politics of distribution Ferguson shows how new demands for direct income payments including so called basic income require us to reexamine the relation between production and distribution and to ask new questions about markets livelihoods labor and the future of progressive politics      Unsettling Eurocentrism in the Westernized

University Julie Cupples, Ramón Grosfoguel, 2018-08-06 The westernized university is a site where the production of knowledge is embedded in Eurocentric epistemologies that are posited as objective disembodied and universal and in which non Eurocentric knowledges such as black and indigenous ones are largely marginalized or dismissed Consequently it is an institution that produces racism sexism and epistemic violence While this is increasingly being challenged by student activists and some faculty the westernized university continues to engage in diversity and internationalization initiatives that reproduce structural disadvantages and to work within neoliberal agendas that are incompatible with decolonization This book draws on decolonial theory to explore the ways in which Eurocentrism in the westernized university is both reproduced and unsettled It outlines some of the challenges that accompany the decolonization of teaching learning research and policy as well as providing examples of successful decolonial moments and processes It draws on examples from universities in Europe New Zealand and the Americas This book represents a highly timely contribution from both early career and established thinkers in the field Its themes will be of interest to student activists and to academics and scholars who are seeking to decolonize their research and teaching It constitutes a decolonizing intervention into the crisis in which the westernized university finds itself      Settlers in Contested Lands Oded Haklai, Neophytos Loizides, 2015-10-14

Settlers feature in many protracted territorial disputes and ethnic conflicts around the world Explaining the dynamics of the politics of settlers in contested territories in several contemporary cases this book illuminates how settler related conflicts emerge evolve and are significantly more difficult to resolve than other disputes Written by country experts chapters consider Israel and the West Bank Arab settlers in Kirkuk Moroccan settlers in Western Sahara settlers from Fascist Italy in North Africa Turkish settlers in Cyprus Indonesian settlers in East Timor and Sinhalese settlers in Sri Lanka Addressing four common topics right sizing the state mobilization and violence the framing process and legal principles versus pragmatism the cases taken together raise interrelated questions about the role of settlers in conflicts in contested territory Then looking beyond the similar characteristics these cases also illuminate key differences in levels of settler mobilization and the impact these differences can have on peace processes to help explain different outcomes of settler related conflicts Finally cases investigate the causes of settler mobilization and identify relevant conflict resolution mechanisms      The Oxford Companion to British History John Cannon, Robert Crowcroft, 2015 In over 4 500 entries this Companion covers all aspects of the history of Britain from 55 BC to the present day Completely revised and updated this is the go to reference work for students and teachers of British history as well as for anyone with an interest in the subject      First and Second Timothy and Titus (Paideia: Commentaries on the New Testament) Christopher R. Hutson, 2019-11-05 Drawing from many parts of the broad Christian tradition this commentary on First and Second Timothy and Titus helps readers gain a stronger understanding of early Christian ministry in the first two centuries Paideia commentaries show how New Testament texts use ancient narrative and rhetorical strategies to form and shape the reader and provide a fresh reading of the biblical texts in light of ancient culture and modern issues Students pastors and other readers will appreciate the historical literary and theological insight offered in this commentary      Entangled Histories in Palestine/Israel Dafna Hirsch, 2024-04-16 This edited volume offers a new critical approach to the study of Zionist history and Israeli Palestinian relations based on the encounter between history and anthropology Informed by the anthropological method of setting large questions to intimate settings the book examines processes of Zionist colonization nation building and Palestinian dispossession by focusing on encounters between members of different national religious and ethnic groups from below through paying close attention to life stories and reconstructing everyday practices and micro histories of places and communities Thus it tells a complex story in which the practices of historical actors are not simply reducible to a single underlying logic of colonization even as they participate in the production and reproduction of colonial structures This approach effectively undermines the prevailing tendency to study national communities in isolation projecting onto the past an essentialist and rigid separation Rather than assuming two clearly bounded and monolithic national groups caught from the start in perpetual conflict this volume probes their historical production through their evolving relationships and their varied and shifting political social economic and cultural manifestations The book will be of interest to students and researchers in an array of fields including the history of Israeli Palestinian relations anthropological perspectives on settler colonialism and Zionism
