Sa Military Skills Development Skills Application Form 2015 16:

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention of military veterans, looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment, gender equality and mainstreaming the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged. HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil-military relations of countries around the world. Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2016: Hearing: related agencies; American Battle Monuments Commission; Arlington National Cemetery; U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims; Armed Forces Retirement Home; Outside witness testimony: American Psychological Association United States. Contributions to a Seminar on Narendra Modi's SAGAR Speech Ambassador Yogendra Kumar, 2017-02-15 Prime Minister Modi articulated his vision for the future of the Indian Ocean region when he presented the Offshore Patrol Vessel Barracuda to the Mauritian Coast Guard on March 12, 2015, at Port Louis. Such an authoritative statement on Indian Ocean by an Indian leader has not been made for a long time. It evoked considerable interest amongst strategic analysts everywhere. Whilst infusing a soft civilisational complexion to India's envisaged role, it signifies also a determination to seek a future of Security and Growth for All in the Region or SAGAR. Hindi for sea. As Indian Ocean assumes greater significance in the wake of profound geo-strategic shifts and multitudinous challenges to regional stability, there is universal interest in India's policy approach and capabilities toward the shaping of a stable maritime order. The Indian political leadership is conscious of the evolving strategic situation and its implications for the country's security and well-being. At the same time, it feels that the current circumstances are propitious for such a policy to be successful in substantial measure. Its benign external image and US and other countries especially regional support for more proactive engagement provide the wellspring for its determination that the Indian Ocean's challenges should be met by the countries of the region itself even as the legitimate interests of outside powers can be accommodated. The eminent contributors to this volume analyse the various components of the SAGAR pronouncement and contextualise them against the emerging strategic trends and the spectrum of bilateral and multilateral effort required for its success.

Psychosocial Job Dimensions and Distress/Well-Being: Issues and Challenges in Occupational Health Psychology Renato Pisanti, Anthony J. Montgomery, James Campbell Quick, 2018-02-01 Over the last three decades a large body of research has showed that psychosocial job dimensions such as time pressure, decision authority and social support could have significant implications for psychological distress and well-being. Theoretical models such as the job demand-control social support model, JD-C model, the effort-reward imbalance model, ERI model, the job demands-resources model, JDR model and the vitamin model suggest that distress and positive dimensions at work, well-being and motivation can be considered as two sides of the same coin. If the job is designed to provide the right mix of psychosocial job dimensions, e.g. optimal time pressure, decision authority and social support, work can boost job engagement and well-being as well as productive behaviors at work. When the job is not designed in an optimal way, e.g. too much time pressure and too little decision authority, work can trigger stress reactions and burnout. Although some insight has been gained on how job dimensions could predict distress and well-being and also into the dimensions that might moderate and mediate these associations, research still faces several challenges. Firstly, most of this research has been cross-sectional in nature, thus making it difficult to conclude on the long-term effects of psychosocial job dimensions. Another challenge concerns how the contextual dimensions can be incorporated into micro-levels models on employee stress and well-being. Nowadays, work is carried out in the context of a wider environment that includes organizational variables. So far, the role of the organizational variables in the theoretical frameworks for explaining the relationships between psychosocial job dimensions, employee distress and well-being has often been underplayed. The main aim of this research topic is to bring together international research from different theoretical and methodological perspectives in order to advance knowledge and practice in the field of work stress.

Enhanced Learning and Teaching via Neuroscience Lorna Uden, Gregory Siy Ching, Amy Corrinne Roberts, 2023-11-15 Neuroscience contributes to the basic understanding of the neural mechanisms underlying human development and learning. Educational neuroscience is an interdisciplinary research field that seeks to translate research findings on neural mechanisms of learning to educational practice and policy and to understand the effects of education on the brain It is an emerging multidisciplinary field where the aim is to link basic research in neuroscience psychology and cognitive science with educational technology Educational neuroscience is often associated with the science of learning and encompasses a broad range of scientific disciplines from basic neuroscience to cognitive psychology to computer science to social theory It is an interdisciplinary research field that seeks to translate research findings on neural mechanisms of learning to educational practice and policy and to understand the effects of education on the brain Neuroscience research usually focuses only on learning but there is a developing subfield within neuroscience called Mind Brain and Education MBE that attempts to link research with teaching MBE researchers consider how to take advantage of the natural human attention span how to use studies about memory systems to inform lesson planning and how to use research on the role of emotions in learning In neuroscience research progress has been extraordinary including advances in both understanding and technology Scientists from a wide range of disciplines are being attracted to the challenge of understanding the brain In spite of discoveries regarding the structure of the brain we still do not understand how the nervous system allows us to see hear learn remember and plan certain actions Educators and schools around the globe are increasingly relying on the knowledge techniques and programs developed based on a new understanding of how our brains work This knowledge is being applied to the classroom A growing amount of attention is being paid to neuroscience and how the results of empirical research may be used to help individuals learn more effectively In this Research Topic academic scientists researchers and scholars will share their experiences and research results on all aspects of brain based learning and educational neuroscience Furthermore it provides a premier interdisciplinary platform for researchers practitioners and educators to present the latest developments trends and concerns In addition it discusses practical challenges encountered and solutions adopted in the field of Educational Neuroscience The focus of this Research Topic is to bring together academic scientists researchers and scholars to exchange and share their experiences and research findings related to brain based learning and educational neuroscience Researchers practitioners and educators will also be able to present and discuss the newest innovations trends and concerns This will include practical challenges encountered and solutions adopted in Educational Neuroscience as well as in related fields All original and unpublished papers describing conceptual constructive empirical experimental or theoretical work in any area of Brain Based Learning and Educational Neuroscience or studies that explore the intersections between neuroscience psychology and education are highly encouraged Aspects topics and critical issues of interest include but are not limited to neuroscience applications in enhanced learning how students learn mathematics and language personal motivation social and emotional learning motivation the biology of learning brain functions and information processing and many others Institutional Determinants of Social Inequality Frédérique Autin,Fabrizio Butera,2016-05-09 Understanding the factors that create and maintain social inequities is a core question in social psychology Research has so far focused on the role of individual stereotyping prejudice and discrimination However there is no such thing as a biased act of prejudiced individuals structural factors in the reproduction of social inequalities Indeed people are immersed in a world and that is the way forward In this research topic we propose to bring together the ideology and practice of the government This can be done by the researcher who is responsible for the work of the researcher the researcher the researcher the researcher the researcher the researcher the researcher and the researcher Eg teachers recruiters leaders Taking the perspective of the company as a whole This could be the highlight of the process Perpetuation of the institutional functioning Grading tracking recruitment and ideologies eg meritocracy individualism protestant work ethic shape the psychological experience of dis advantaged people Eg teachers recruiters leaders Taking the perspective of the company as a whole This could be the highlight of the process Perpetuation of the institutional functioning Grading tracking recruitment and ideologies eg meritocracy individualism protestant work ethic shape the psychological experience of dis advantaged people Eg teachers recruiters leaders Taking the perspective of the company as a whole This could be the highlight of the process Perpetuation of the institutional functioning shape the psychological experience of dis advantaged people Eg teachers recruiters leaders Taking the perspective of the company as a whole This could be the highlight of the process Perpetuation of the institutional functioning shape the psychological experience of dis advantaged people Eg teachers recruiters leaders Taking the perspective of the company as a whole This could be the highlight of the process Perpetuation of the institutional functioning Taking the perspective of the company as a whole This could be the highlight of the process Perpetuation of the institutional functioning Taking the perspective of the company as a whole This could be the highlight of the process Perpetuation of the institutional functioning

Cape peninsula South Africa. Department of Posts and Telecommunications,1995      A critical appraisal of research in arts, health and wellbeing Stephen Clift,Gunter Kreutz,Stephen Pritchard,Michael Koon Boon Tan,Kai Lehtikainen,Andre De Quadros,Esther Coren,Kate Phillips,2023-06-23      Video Games as Tools to Achieve Insight into Cognitive Processes Walter R. Boot,2015-06-04 Though traditionally designed for entertainment video games are being used more and more by psychologists to understand topics such as skill acquisition cognitive capacity and plasticity aging individual differences and development The appeal of using video games over simpler laboratory paradigms partly comes from their ability to present rich and complex cognitive challenges more representative of the demands of the complex everyday tasks we perform outside of the laboratory However this complexity also presents a host of methodological and analytic challenges This Research Topic brings together research using games to explore cognitive processes with a special focus on the challenges of this approach Challenges are in terms of design implementation or data analysis      Traumatic Brain Injury as a Systems Neuroscience Problem H. Isaac Chen,John F. Burke,Akiva S. Cohen,2017-04-27 Traumatic brain injury TBI is traditionally viewed as an anatomic and neuropathological condition Caring for TBI patients is a matter of defining the extent of an anatomical lesion managing this lesion and minimizing secondary brain injury On the research side the effects of TBI often are studied in the context of neuronal and axonal degeneration and the subsequent deposition of abnormal proteins such as tau These approaches form the basis of our current understanding of TBI but they pay less attention to the function of the affected organ the brain Much can be learned about TBI by studying this disorder on a systems neuroscience level and correlating changes in neural circuitry with neurological and cognitive function There are several aspects of TBI that are a natural fit for this perspective including post traumatic epilepsy consciousness and cognitive sequelae How individual neurons contribute to network activity and how network function responds to injury are key concepts in examining these areas In recent years the available tools for studying the role of neuronal assemblies in TBI have become increasingly sophisticated ranging from optogenetic and electrophysiological techniques to advanced imaging modalities such as functional magnetic resonance imaging and magnetoencephalography Further progress in understanding the disruption and subsequent reshaping of networks is likely to have substantial benefits in the treatment of patients with TBI associated deficits In this Frontiers Topic we intend to highlight the systems neuroscience approach to studying TBI In addition to analyzing the clinical sequelae of TBI in this context this series of articles explores the pathophysiological mechanisms underlying network dysfunction including alterations in synaptic activity changes in neural oscillation patterns and disruptions in functional connectivity We also include articles on treatment options for TBI patients that modulate network function It is our hope that this Frontiers Topic will increase the clinical and scientific communities awareness of this viable framework for deepening our knowledge of TBI and improving patient outcomes
