

CELEBRATING

NATIONAL PHYSICS DAY

A composite image featuring three individuals in the foreground and a complex scientific visualization in the background. The background shows a central, glowing yellow and orange sphere, possibly representing a particle collision or a celestial body, surrounded by blue, swirling, ethereal structures that resemble magnetic field lines or plasma. Red, wireframe-like geometric shapes, resembling molecular models or network graphs, are positioned on the left and right sides of the central sphere. The overall color palette is dark, with vibrant highlights from the central sphere and the surrounding structures.
