Franke, 2015-08 Private equity minority investments have become an increasingly attractive financing alternative for family firms However admitting a private equity investor as a minority shareholder seems to contradict with the objective of the owner family to preserve their continuous and unlimited influence on the businesses since they must at least partially cede control over the firm to the private equity investor Therefore the purpose of this book is to identify the primary decision drivers for family firm entrepreneurs in seeking private equity financing despite the therein related partial loss of control By giving special consideration to the potential cooperation mechanisms between the shareholders this book goes beyond the scope of previous studies Cooperation is thereby considered as a prerequisite for the success of minority investments because due to its minority position the private equity investor is not able to implement its value creation strategy against the will of the family firm entrepreneur may each investment team have its own unique leadership style but its diverse members have to assimilate styles for each team in which they participate relative to a specific portfolio company Acquisitions and their subsequent integrations add exponential complexity for both private equity investment and portfolio company leadership teams indeed cultural integration ranks among the most chronic acquisition obstacles Accordingly the stakeholders of private equity transactions do well to embrace leadership best practices in applying value creation toolbox best practices The perspectives of both the private equity investment team and the portfolio company leadership team are within the scope of these chapters
