Downhill from Here Katherine S. Newman, 2015-06-25

A sharp examination of the looming financial catastrophe of retirement in America As millions of Baby Boomers reach their golden years the state of retirement in America is little short of a disaster Nearly half the households with people aged 55 and older have no retirement savings at all The real estate crash wiped out much of the home equity that millions were counting on to support their retirement And the typical Social Security check covers less than 40% of pre retirement wages a number projected to drop to under 28% within two decades Old age poverty a problem we thought was solved by the New Deal is poised for a resurgence With dramatic statistics and vivid portraits acclaimed sociologist Katherine S Newman shows that the American retirement crisis touches us all cutting across class lines and generational divides White collar managers have seen retirement benefits vanish Teamsters have had their pensions cut in half bankrupt cities like Detroit have walked away from their commitments to municipal workers And for Generation X the prospects are even worse a fifth of them expect to never be able to retire Only the vaunted one percent can face retirement without fear Other countries are confronting similar demographic challenges yet they have not abandoned their social contract with seniors Downhill From Here makes it clear that America too can and must do better

In 1997 NASA researchers Michael Cox and David Ellsworth publish Application controlled demand paging for out of core visualization in the Proceedings of the IEEE 8th conference on Visualization They start the article with Visualization provides an interesting challenge for computer systems data sets are generally quite large taxing the capacities of main memory local disk and even remote disk We call this the problem of big data When data sets do not fit in main memory in core or when they do not fit even on local disk the most common solution is to acquire more resources It is the first article in the ACM digital library to use the term big data Michael Lesk publishes How much information is there in the world Lesk concludes that There may be a few thousand petabytes of information all told and the production of tape and disk will reach that level by the year 2000 So in only a few years a we will be able to save everything no information will have to be thrown out and b the typical piece of information will never be looked at by a human being

Background Papers on The IMF and the Crises in Greece, Ireland, and Portugal Moisés J. Schwartz,Shinji Takagi,2017-06-30 This volume book brings together nine background papers prepared for an evaluation by the IMF Independent Evaluation Office of the IMF and the crises in Greece Ireland and Portugal It presents an authoritative work on the evolving relationship between the IMF and the euro area a common currency area founded in 1999 consisting of advanced highly integrated economies in Europe The euro area or any common currency area for that matter has posed challenges to the IMF s operational activities as its Articles of Agreement contain no provision for joint membership The challenges became intense when a series of crises erupted in Greece Ireland and Portugal from 2009 to 2011 and the Fund was called upon to help intervene by offering its financing and crisis management expertise The IMF found itself in uncharted territory where there was no precedent or established procedure The chapters many of which are prepared by prominent academics and former senior IMF officials who are thoroughly familiar with internal procedures discuss various aspects of the IMF s engagement with the euro area including precrisis surveillance how key decisions were made how the IMF collaborated with European institutions and how it designed and implemented its lending programs with the three crisis countries The book gives prominence to governance related issues given the large voting share of more than 20 percent within the IMF of euro area members and the subsequent public perception that the IMF treated the euro area more favorably than it does developing and emerging market members The approaches are both cross cutting and country based Some chapters deal with issues related to the euro area as a whole while others focus on how the Fund engaged with individual euro area countries The book contains a statement on the IEO evaluation by the IMF Managing Director and a Summing Up of the Executive Board discussion held in July 2016
