Anglophone mainly British writing today By the Book Patrick Buckridge, Belinda McKay, 2007 By the Book is an indispensable history of the literature of Queensland from its establishment as a separate colony in the mid nineteenth century through major economic political and cultural transformations to the beginning of the twenty first century Queensland figures in the Australian imagination as a frontier a place of wild landscapes and wilder politics but also as Australia's playground a soft tourist paradise of warm weather and golden beaches Based partly on real historical divergences from the rest of Australia these contradictory images have been questioned and scrutinised Anthropocene Poetry Yvonne Reddick, 2023-11-03 Anthropocene Poetry Place Environment and Planet argues that the idea of the Anthropocene is inspiring new possibilities for poetry It can also change the way we read and interpret poems If environmental poetry was once viewed as linked to place this book shows how poets are now grappling with environmental issues from the local to the planetary climate change and the extinction crisis nuclear weapons and waste plastic pollution and the petroleum industry This book intervenes in debates about culture and science traditional poetic form and experimental ecopoetics to show how poets are collaborating with environmental scientists and joining environmental activist movements to respond to this time of crisis From the canonical work of Ted Hughes and Seamus Heaney to award winning poets Alice Oswald Pascale Petit Kei Miller and Karen McCarthy Woolf this book explores major figures from the past alongside acclaimed contemporary voices It reveals Seamus Heaney's support for conservation causes and Ted Hughes's astonishingly forward thinking research on climate change it discusses how Pascale Petit has given poetry to Extinction Rebellion and how Karen McCarthy Woolf set sail with scientists to write about plastic pollution This book deploys research on five poetry archives in the UK USA and Ireland and the author's insider insights into the commissioning processes and collaborative methods that shaped important contemporary poetry publications Anthropocene Poetry finds that environmental poetry is flourishing in the face of ecological devastation Such poetry speaks of the anxieties and dilemmas of our age and searches for paths towards resilience and resistance Australian Tropical Rainforests Jiro Kikkawa, 1990 Based on contributions to a symposium at the 57th ANZAAS congress in 1987 this book describes and interprets the evolution biology and dynamics of Australia's northern rainforests from scientific humanistic and eco political viewpoints Includes references and an index Can Poetry Save the Earth? John Felstiner, 2009-04-01 In forty brief and lucid chapters Felstiner presents those voices that have most strongly spoken to and for the natural world Poets from the Romantics through Whitman and Dickinson to Elizabeth Bishop and Gary Snyder have helped us envision such details as ocean winds eroding and rebuilding dunes in the same breath wild deer freezing in our presence and a person carving initials on a still living stranded whale Skepticism and Impersonality in Modern Poetry V. Joshua Adams, 2025-06-12 Modern literature is often described in terms of its impersonality What is the significance of this fact In Skepticism and Impersonality V. Joshua Adams follows the history of impersonality in modern poetry from Mallarmé and Eliot through to the present engaging with work by major poets and critics but also contemporary philosophers Rather than seeing impersonality exclusively as a literary historical phenomenon Adams argues that we should understand it as an attempt to address skeptical problems arising from the limitations of first person experience Defending impersonality as a response to skeptical problems including doubts about the publicity of our experiences our knowledge of other minds the capacity of our language to describe the world the relationship between mind and body and the fictionality and continuity of our sense of self Adams analyzes what he calls experiments in impersonality as means of working through skeptical doubt The writers discussed transform this doubt into art whilst also ironizing it as corrosive and self defeating Ultimately this leads Adams to reinterpret literary impersonality as a therapeutic philosophical project Skepticism and Impersonality promises a new theoretical justification for our practical interest in literary texts to renovate our conception of how those texts might do philosophical work and to expand our sense of what a philosophical poem can be

Romanticism and Aesthetic Life in Postcolonial Writing Philip Dickinson, 2018-02-08 This book explores Romanticism as a force that exerts an insistent but critically neglected pressure on the postcolonial imagination From the decolonizing poetics of the Caribbean to the white writing of South Africa from the aesthetics of post imperial disappointment to postcolonial theory itself it develops an account of the textual and philosophical interpenetration of postcolonial aesthetics with Romantic ideas about sense history and world What emerges is a reading of Romantic postcolonial co involvement that moves beyond well worn models of intercanonical antagonism and the historicizing biases of conventional literary history Caught somewhere between the effects of reanimation and estrangement Romanticism appears here not as a stable textual repository prior to the postcolonial but as echo spectre self interruption or vital force that can yet only emerge in the guise of the afterlife its agency mediated but never exhausted by postcolonial writing
