The New Politics of Strategic Resources David Steven, Emily O'Brien, Bruce D. Jones, 2014-11-21 Since 2008 energy and food markets those most fundamental to human existence have remained in turmoil Resource scarcity has had a much bigger global impact in recent years than has been predicted with ongoing volatility a sign that the world is only part way through navigating a treacherous transition in the way it uses resources Scarcity and perceptions of scarcity increase political risks while geopolitical turmoil exacerbates shortages and complicates the search for solutions The New Politics of Strategic Resources examines the political dimensions of strategic resource challenges at the domestic and international levels For better or worse energy and food markets are shaped by perceptions of national interest and do not behave as traditional market goods So while markets are an essential part of any response to tighter resource supplies governments also will play a key role David Steven Emily O'Brien Bruce Jones and their colleagues discuss what those roles are and what they should be The architecture for coordinating multilateral responses to these dynamics has fallen short raising questions about the effective international management of these issues Politics impede here too as the major powers must negotiate political and security trade offs to cooperate on the design of more robust international regimes and mechanisms for resource security and the provision of global public goods This timely volume includes chapters on major powers United States India China and key suppliers Russia Saudi Arabia The contributors also address thematic topics such as the interaction between oil and state fragility the changing political dynamics of climate change and the politics of resource subsidies

Gender Responsive Budgeting in Fragile States Monica Costa,2017-08-16 A growing number of governments have made commitments to achieving gender equality and women s rights with many using gender responsive budgeting GRB to allocate resources for the delivery of economic policy and governance that benefit men and women equally At a time when GRB is growing in global traction this book investigates what it can deliver for gender equality and state resilience in contexts where the state is weak or prone to violence such as in Timor Leste Gender Responsive Budgeting in Fragile States The Case of Timor Leste uses the Timor Leste case to investigate whether gender equality reform can be adopted at the same time as establishing economic and institutional fundamentals While some may have thought that the adoption of GRB strategy in 2008 was premature Monica Costa argues that GRB initiatives have contributed to budget accountability and transparency and ultimately improved policy and budget processes and decisions This multi disciplinary analysis of a decade of GRB demonstrates why GRB is important to inform the debate on state fragility resilience and argues that fragile states cannot defer gender equality in the name of getting the economic and institutional basics right While a growing number of fragile states have taken steps to make their budget more gender responsive questions remain for economists and policy makers about what can be achieved and how Gender Responsive Budgeting in Fragile States is the first international publication on GRB in fragile state contexts and will be of interest to researchers upper level students policy makers and NGOs with an interest in policy economics gender and development

Ministry of Defence Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts, 2012-05-25 The Ministry of Defence announced in the summer of 2010 that it had a funding gap of 38 billion over the next ten years As part of the Government's efforts to reduce the deficit the Department also needs to reduce its annual spending by 7.5% in real terms by 2015 It intends to achieve a significant proportion of its required savings by reducing its civilian personnel by 29 000 and its military personnel by 25 000 which it estimates will save 4.1 billion between 2011 and 2015 The Department is currently enacting a transformation programme to change its way of working in order to deliver on the Strategic Defence and Security Review priorities with fewer staff However the Department has put plans in place to implement reductions in its workforce before it has finalised its new operating model The operating model will set out how the Department will meet its objectives in the future but its reductions in workforce will be well advanced before the model is agreed There is concern that plans to reduce the workforce have been determined more by the need to cut costs than by considering how to deliver its strategic objectives and that there is a risk of further skills gaps developing This could make the Department increasingly reliant on external expertise with consultancy expenditure having already grown from 6 million in 2006/07 to 270 million in 2010/11 and reforms Industrial Policy and the Transformation of the Colonial Economy in Africa Horman Chitonge, 2021-02-15

Industrial Policy and the Transformation of the Colonial Economy in Africa offers an in depth analysis of the role industrial policy can play in the transformation of African economies Using examples from Zambia s industrial development experience this book illustrates that core features of the colonial economy have not just survived six decades of independence in most African countries but they have continued to shape the nature scope and pace of economic activities on the continent The book argues that since the colonial economy in Africa was not intended to serve the interests of Africans it is imperative that the structures and the underlying rationale of the colonial economy are radically reoriented if economic activities in Africa are to benefit the majority of Africans Drawing from the Zambian experience the book shows that the transformation of the colonial economy in Africa is urgently needed Whilst this has proved to be difficult over the past six decades it can be done The book outlines a specific type of industrial policy Frontier Industrial Policy as a key instrument for transforming the structure of African economies At a time when economic growth across Africa is under considerable pressure due to COVID 19 the insights in this book will be of interest to researchers across Economics Development Postcolonial Studies and African Studies The Oxford Handbook of the Ethiopian Economy Fantu Cheru, Christopher Cramer, Arkebe Oqubay, 2019-01-10

From a war torn and famine plagued country at the beginning of the 1990s Ethiopia is today emerging as one of the fastest growing economies in Africa Growth in Ethiopia has surpassed that of every other sub Saharan country over the past decade and is forecast by the International Monetary Fund to exceed 8 percent over the next two years The government has set its eyes on transforming the country into a middle income country by 2025 and into a leading manufacturing hub in Africa The Oxford Handbook of the Ethiopian Economy studies this country s unique model of development where the state plays a central role and where a successful industrialization drive has challenged the long held erroneous assumption that industrial policy will never work in poor African countries While much of the volume is focused on post 1991 economic development policy and strategy the analysis is set against the background of the long history of Ethiopia and more specifically on the Imperial period that ended in 1974 the socialist development experiment of the Derg regime between 1974 and 1991 and the policies and strategies of the current EPRDF government that assumed power in 1991 Including a range of contributions from both academic and professional standpoints this volume is a key reference work on the economy of Ethiopia OECD Public Governance Reviews Youth at the Centre of Government Action A Review of the Middle East and North Africa OECD, 2022-06-23 Young people have demonstrated resilience to shocks and led positive change in their communities across the Middle East and North Africa MENA region Young people aged under 30 constitute more than half 55% of the population across MENA compared with 36% of the population across OECD countries Federal Budget in Brief Pakistan. Finance Division, 2010 Perspectives and Theories of Social Innovation for Ageing Population Andrzej Klimczuk, Łukasz Tomczyk, 2020-03-25 Republic of Iraq Public Expenditure Review The World Bank, 2014-08-26 This Public Expenditure Review PER provides an integrated perspective on Iraq's need to provide better public service delivery while maintaining macroeconomic stability and fiscal discipline. The achievement of these objectives unfolds within a challenging context of revenue volatility, the need to diversify the economy, weak accountability mechanisms and residual conflict. Reflecting these challenges, key socio-economic developmental indicators are stalled or even declining despite rapid growth in public spending. Indeed, the review shows that growth in spending has not been matched by absorptive capacity, let alone improved outcomes. The difficult task of constructing the fiscal institutions to embed the practices of good economic management remains a work in progress. The PER is one component of World Bank assistance to the government to improve public expenditure policy and management. The challenge for the Iraqi authorities in the years ahead will be to turn oil revenues into sustained welfare improvements. Macroeconomic stability alone is not enough to address social and economic development issues and to avoid a resource curse. Iraq's oil wealth alone cannot generate sustainably high living standards for the majority of its population. Economic diversification is an imperative both to create jobs and to promote income-generating opportunities for the Iraqi population. The key challenges for the authorities therefore are i) to remove constraints to non-hydrocarbon economic activities, ii) to ensure the efficient use of oil revenue and iii) to restrain the growth of current spending in particular wage bill and subsidies to free up resources for public investment while maintaining essential safety nets and social support for the poor and disadvantaged. Public investment management is a crosscutting capability that is needed to meet Iraq's development objectives. The government has the opportunity to take concrete steps now. The PER proposes approaches and actions to better use Iraq's oil revenues by shifting to a save and invest via curbing inefficient spending and redirecting resources to public investment and basic services. As economic growth prospects are favorable in the medium term, the Iraqi government has the opportunity to lay the foundations of a broadly diversified economy with a reasonable footprint that provides decent public services and security while facilitating adequate economic freedom. Senior policy makers at the Ministry of Finance, Ministry of Planning and line ministries are the primary audience of this work.
