Primary History, 2005 Writing History 7-11 Hilary Cooper, 2014-06-05 Writing History 7-11 supports students and primary teachers helping them to explore ways in which activities involving the talk that underpins historical enquiry can be developed into reading and exciting extended reflective writing. The step that teachers and pupils take from talk for learning to talk for writing is a vital one. In this book, the authors argue that all aspects of historical enquiry leading to writing involve discussion and dialogue which permeate every aspect of doing history. From this perspective, they set out a theoretical framework for understanding the role of talk and reading in developing pupils' critical thinking and confident reflective writing, then demonstrate through a series of case studies in which teachers, university lecturers and pupils work together how the theory is put into practice in the classroom. Themes include: How to support children in writing in a variety of interesting genres; How to make links between the National Curriculum 2013 for History and for English; How to plan for breadth and depth studies in the new National Curriculum; How activities in History 5-11 can be developed into exciting extended writing. The second half of the book draws upon case studies from a number of real primary classrooms with children of different ages. Each case study shows how teaching was planned to develop children's confidence and enjoyment in discussion and to scaffold reasoned written explanation and argument. Topics presented are all relevant to the new curriculum framework and include talking and reading about Time change and significance over 6000 years; writing a television script; Celtic Britain and the Roman Army; writing a travel brochure about Celtic Britain; The destruction of Roman towns; writing a Saxon poem; An archaeological investigation of a body in a Danish peat bog; writing a newspaper report; Did any countries benefit from WW1? writing an argued viewpoint; The expansion westwards of European settlers; writing a flap book exploring different perspectives. This indispensable book provides not only sources for pupils to use in their writing but also models and exemplars of different styles and voices to draw upon. Heritage and Nationalism Chiara Bonacchi, 2022-03-14 How was the Roman Empire invoked in Brexit Britain and in Donald Trump's United States of America and to what purpose? And why is it critical to answer these kinds of questions? Heritage and Nationalism explores how people's perceptions and experiences of the ancient past shape political identities in the digital age. It particularly examines the multiple ways in which politicians, parties and private citizens mobilise aspects of the Iron Age, Roman and Medieval past of Britain and Europe to include or exclude others based on culture, religion, class, race, ethnicity etc. Chiara Bonacchi draws on the results of an extensive programme of research.

involving both data intensive and qualitative methods to investigate how pre modern periods are leveraged to support or oppose populist nationalist arguments as part of social media discussions concerning Brexit the Italian Election of 2018 and the US Mexican border debate in the US Analysing millions of tweets and Facebook posts comments and replies this book is the first to use big data to answer questions about public engagement with the past and identity politics The findings and conclusions revise and reframe the meaning of populist nationalism today and help to build a shared basis for the democratic engagement of citizens in public life in the future The book offers a fascinating and unmissable read for anyone interested in how the past and its contemporary legacy or heritage influence our political thinking and feeling in a time of hyper interconnectivity
