Chapter 1

Section 1

1. Chemistry is the study of matter and its changes. Physics is the study of forces and energy and their interaction with matter.

2. Science is knowledge about the nature of things that is obtained by doing experiments. Technology is the application of science. Improving technology involves finding a use for a scientific discovery. However, some scientific discoveries cannot be made until a certain technology exists.

3. A scientific law describes how things work based on experimental observations. Examples may vary, but could include the laws of gravitation and the conservation of matter.

4. A law summarizes an observation; a theory explains observations.

5. A scientific theory may change if new discoveries are found that cannot be explained by the theory, but are supported by experimental evidence. A new theory that can explain both the new and the old observations would take the place of the old theory.

6. A model is used to study or make predictions about an object or situation the model represents. One example of a model is a computer model that is used to design bridges and buildings.

7. He did not give up after his experiment did not give the results he expected. Instead, he
