and Employment Anita Grace, 2021-12-23 Women Reentry and Employment Criminalized and Employable explores the conflicting discourses about employment for women who are exiting prison. It empirically outlines the landscape of employability supports available to reentering women, the steps to employment women are directed to follow, and the barriers to employment they face. Theoretically, it explores the subject positions of criminalized and employable women. This book offers a contemporary contribution to the scholarship of the past three decades that has queried, monitored, and challenged practices and policies relating to women's corrections in Canada. Based on data gathered about community-based employment supports available to reentering women in Ontario, Canada, it explores how language constructs the subject positions of criminalized and employable women and brings into conversation the extensive body of work about women's employment and employability and reintegration. The book marks a unique but important intersection of these empirical and theoretical domains. Central to the book is the juxtaposition of two key subject positions mobilized in women's corrections. One is that of the criminalized woman, a subject whose experiences of trauma and marginalization have rendered her emotionally and mentally broken; she is constrained by her past and incapable of acting towards her future. The other subject position is that of the employable woman, who is future-oriented, confident, and responsible for her own socio-economic inclusion. How do reentering women experience, inhabit, and resist these incompatible subject positions? Challenging the invisibilization of women's experiences in the criminal justice system, Women Reentry and Employment will be of great interest to students and scholars of Criminology, Penology, and Women's Studies.

Migration, Recognition and Critical Theory Gottfried Schweiger, 2021-07-07 This book brings together philosophical, social, theoretical, and empirically oriented contributions on the philosophical and socio-theoretical debate on migration and integration using the instruments of recognition as a normative and social scientific category. Furthermore, the theoretical and practical implications of recognition theory are reflected through the case of migration. Migration movements, refugees, and the associated tensions are phenomena that have become the focus of scientific, political, and public debate in recent years. Migrants, in particular, refugees, face many injustices and are especially vulnerable, but the right-wing political discourse presents them as threats to social order and stability. This book shows what a critical theory of recognition can contribute to the debate. The book is suitable for researchers in philosophy, social theory, and migration research. A profound examination of how states and societies struggle to recognize migrants as fellow human beings in all their fullness. The contributions are exceptional for combining astute philosophy and social theory with a discussion of actual politics and real lives. Dr. Hugo Slim, Senior Research Fellow at the Blavatnik School of Government, University of Oxford, and formerly Head of Policy at the International Committee of the Red Cross. This impressive and timely volume offers an innovative way of understanding the issues of migration and integration by using a critical theory of recognition. Recognition theory has rich potential for effectively responding to the issues of autonomy, identity, integration, and empowerment that are at the core of the current public
