Population and Ecology

What are the factors that influence the growth of a population? How do these factors interact to determine the population's growth rate? (10 marks)

1. The Growth Rate

a) The population growth rate is the rate at which a population increases or decreases in size. It is determined by the balance of birth rate (the number of new individuals added to the population) and death rate (the number of individuals removed from the population). The growth rate is the difference between these two rates.

2. The Growth Rate Equation

Using the growth rate equation, we can calculate the growth rate of a population given the birth rate and death rate.

b) The growth rate equation is: $\text{Growth Rate} = \text{Birth Rate} - \text{Death Rate}$

Example: If the birth rate is 100 and the death rate is 80, the growth rate is 20.

c) The growth rate equation can be used to predict the future size of a population given the current size and the growth rate.

Example: If the current population is 1000 and the growth rate is 20, the population in 10 years will be 1200.

3. Exploring the Population Growth Rate

Using the growth rate equation, we can explore the factors that influence the growth rate.

d) If the growth rate is positive, the population is growing. If the growth rate is negative, the population is shrinking. If the growth rate is zero, the population is stable.

Example: If the birth rate is 100 and the death rate is 100, the growth rate is 0, and the population is stable.

e) The growth rate equation can be used to calculate the growth rate of a population given the birth rate and death rate.

Variable	Definition	Value
B	Birth rate (per 1000)	100
D	Death rate (per 1000)	80
G	Growth rate (per 1000)	20
P	Population (in 1000s)	1000
F	Future population (in 1000s)	1200

Example: If the birth rate is 100 and the death rate is 80, the growth rate is 20.

f) The growth rate equation can be used to calculate the growth rate of a population given the birth rate and death rate.

Example: If the birth rate is 100 and the death rate is 80, the growth rate is 20.
