John Siko

Past Year Paper For Afrikaans Paper:

Inside South Africa's Foreign Policy John Siko, 2014-06-16 South Africa is still the major player in African diplomacy its military resources far outstripping those of other nations on the continent It also has traditionally taken the lead role in Africa's united negotiations with other power blocs Yet the recent consensus has been that South Africa's diplomacy over the last decades has been a disappointing failure from appearing to back the controversial Mugabe regime to accusations that it is failing to utilize its position to encourage Chinese investment John Siko has had insider access to the corridors of power in South Africa and with access to the major political players charts the inability of South Africa to develop a coherent policy over the last four decades In particular he reveals the tight grip Mbeki has over foreign policy to the detriment of SA's standing in the world and argues South Africa's isolationist style of policy making has not changed enough after Mandela's election in 1994 The Education Gazette of the Province of the Cape of Good Hope Cape of Good Hope (South Africa). Education Department, 1928 Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience Breaking Story Gordon S. Jackson, 2019-03-14 This book provides an in depth analysis of the economic difficulties facing journalism including the impact of television's increasing share of the advertising market It focuses on the alternative press which arose in the mid 1980s at the height of the government's crackdown on dissent AF Press Clips, 1986 AF Press Clips United States Department of State. Bureau of African Affairs, 1978 Marking Matric Vijay Reddy, 2006 The past ten years in South Africa has seen many changes in education the creation of a single department of education common examinations for all learners in public schools in the country a new outcomes based education curriculum which was introduced to learners in the general education and training phase since 1998 and will be introduced to the further education and training phase from 2006 To evaluate the success of these changes South African researchers still use the indicator of student achievement The matriculation examination is the visible high profile and public performance indicator Every year parents learners teachers researchers government officials policymakers and the general public get involved in the debate around the matric examination with the most frequently asked questions being Did the pass rate go up Are standards dropping Are the results real or have they been manipulated How is our education system doing Are we meeting the development goals What should the matriculation examination of the future look like participants from government national and provincial The Press and Apartheid William A. Hachten, C. Anthony Giffard, 1984-06-18 Papers, 1926 South African Language Rights Monitor 2004 Theo du Plessis, Johan Lubbe, Elbie Truter, 2011-11-01 The South African Language Rights Monitor SALRM Project surveys the mainstream newspapers of South Africa with a view to compile annual reports on the developments on the language front in the country While the main focus is on language rights and language rights activism the yearly Monitor also covers other language related problems including name changes as well as aspects of language promotion For anybody interested in subjects ranging from the proposed renaming of Bloemfontein Louis Trichardt Pretoria Port Elizabeth and Johannesburg International Airport to the incident of Johann Rupert withdrawing his advertisements from a British magazine and from the saga on mother tongue education at schools to the language policy in the judicial system and the success of the South African films Yesterday and U Carmen eKhayelitsha the SALRM 2005 provides a rich source of information The SALRM Project is housed in the Department of Language Management and Language Practice at the University of the Free State No Lesser Place Chris Brink, 2006-03-01 In No Lesser Place professor Chris Brink rector of Stellenbosch University since 2002 gives in his personal capacity an overview of and commentary on the main arguments of the taaldebat He does so against the background of the historical and current position of Afrikaans at Stellenbosch and also outlines his own position in this regard Report of the Superintendent of Education Natal (South Africa). Education Department, 1924

Papers from the 6th International Conference on Historical Linguistics Jacek Fisiak, 1985-01-01 This volume presents a selection of papers from the 6th International Conference on Historical Linguistics ICHL which was held in 1983 in Pozna Poland The SAGE Handbook of Political Advertising Lynda Lee Kaid, Christina Holtz-Bacha, 2006-06-14 The SAGE Handbook of Political Advertising provides a comprehensive view of the role political advertising plays in democracies around the world Editors Lynda Lee Kaid and Christina Holtz Bacha along with an international group of contributors examine the differences as well as the similarities of political advertising in established and evolving democratic governments Key Features Offers an international perspective This Handbook examines the political television advertising process that has evolved in democracies around the world including countries in Asia Europe Australia Africa Latin America and North America In addition a comparative overview addresses the effects of political advertising on the voters and the systems of which it is a part Provides comprehensive coverage For each country presented an analysis is given of its political advertising history its cultural implications the political and regulatory systems related to political advertising the effects of media system structures and the effects of new technologies Includes examples from recent elections The role specific candidate or party controlled television plays in a specific region s electoral process is examined Original research on recent elections confirms the expanding significance of this form of political communication This is an excellent resource for media professionals and practicing journalists as well as a welcome addition to any academic library It can also be used as a textbook for advanced undergraduate and graduate courses on Political Advertising in the fields of Political Science Communication Broadcasting Journalism and International Relations World Meetings Outside United States and Canada ,1983 General Report - Transvaal Education Department Transvaal (South Africa). Education Dept,1918

Papers R.P. ,1974 Language in Cape Town's District Six Kay McCormick,2002 The book is a sociolinguistic case study of District Six an inner city neighbourhood in Cape Town characterized by language mixing and switching of English and Afrikaans Its early inhabitants included indigenous people freed slaves of African and Asian origin and immigrants from Europe and elsewhere The ravages of apartheid affected the residents attitudes towards their languages in various ways which are described The book examines the norms and practices regarding language choice for various functions and domains in the only surviving sector of District Six It also contains detailed analyses of extended bilingual conversations showing a range of social linguistic and discourse features Of particular interest is the paradoxical polarization and blending of the two languages They are strongly polarized symbolically and functionally yet they are also habitually blended in vernacular speech through lexical borrowing and intrasentential language switching This paradox has interesting implications for the construction of individual community and language identity Linguistic Purism in the Germanic Languages Nils Langer, Winifred Davies, 2011-12-22 Purism is an aspect of linguistic study which appeals not only to the scholar but also to the layperson Somehow ordinary speakers with many different mother tongues and with no formal training in linguistics share certain beliefs about what language is how it develops or should develop whether it has good or bad qualities etc The topic of linguistic purism in its many realisations is the subject of this volume of 19 articles selected from the contributions presented at a conference at the University of Bristol in 2003 In particular the articles deal with the relationship of purism to historical prescriptivism e g the influence of grammarians in the 17th and 18th centuries to nationhood e g the instrumentalising of purism in the standardisation of Afrikaans or Luxembourgish to modern society e g the existence of puristic tendencies in computer chatrooms to folk linguistics e g lay perceptions of different varieties of English and to academic linguistics e g the presence of puristic notions in the historiography of German or English The Last Lingua Franca Nicholas Ostler, 2010-12-01 English is the world's lingua franca the most widely spoken language in human history And yet as historian and linguist Nicholas Ostler persuasively argues English will not only be displaced as the world's language in the not distant future it will be the last lingua franca not replaced by another Empire commerce and religion have been the primary reasons d'être for lingua francas Greek Latin Arabic have all held the position and Ostler explores each through the lens of civilizations spanning the globe and history from China and India to Russia and Europe Three trends emerge that suggest the ultimate decline of English and other lingua francas Movements throughout the world towards equality in society will downgrade the status of elites and since elites are the prime users of non native English the language will gradually retreat to its native speaking territories. The rising wealth of Brazil, Russia, India, and China will challenge the dominance of native English speaking nations, thereby shrinking the international preference for English. Simultaneously, new technologies will allow instant translation among major languages, enhancing the status of mother tongues and lessening the necessity for any future lingua franca. Ostler predicts a soft landing for English. It will still be widely spoken, if no longer worldwide, sustained by America's continued power on the world stage. But its decline will be both symbolic and significant evidence of grand shifts in the cultural effects of empire. The Last Lingua Franca is both an insightful examination of the trajectory of our own mother tongue and a fascinating lens through which to view the sweep of history.
