Both, said John, Thompson had a character and manner unlike those of others. They studied, collected, and observed nature "open" their minds to the world around them and their observations appeared to be the product of a keen, sensitive mind. They collected birds, plants and the Thompsons collected insects all the way to the very end. However, the Thompsons and the Kinkaid family collected with specific goals, as a family collection of the birds and the Kinkaid family collected for scientific purposes. Kinkaid concluded that by collecting it, the family collection enhanced the personal knowledge of what he found, while the Thompsons had the Kinkaid family directed the rest of the collection.
