Big and Small Lynne Vallone, 2017-11-07 A groundbreaking work that explores human size as a distinctive cultural marker in Western thought Author scholar and editor Lynne Vallone has an international reputation in the field of child studies In this analytical tour de force she explores bodily size difference particularly unusual bodies big and small as an overlooked yet crucial marker that informs human identity and culture Exploring miniaturism gigantism obesity and the lived experiences of actual big and small people Vallone boldly addresses the uncomfortable implications of using physical measures to judge normalcy goodness gender identity and beauty This wide ranging work surveys the lives and contexts of both real and imagined persons with extraordinary bodies from the seventeenth century to the present day through close examinations of art literature folklore and cultural practices as well as scientific and pseudo scientific discourses Generously illustrated and written in a lively and accessible style Vallone s provocative study encourages readers to look with care at extraordinary bodies and the cultures that created depicted loved and dominated them

Reinventing Hoodia Laura A. Foster, 2017-09-18 Native to the Kalahari Desert Hoodia gordonii is a succulent plant known by generations of Indigenous San peoples to have a variety of uses to reduce hunger increase energy and ease breastfeeding In the global North it is known as a natural appetite suppressant a former star of the booming diet industry In Reinventing Hoodia Laura Foster explores how the plant was reinvented through patent ownership pharmaceutical research the self determination efforts of Indigenous San peoples contractual benefit sharing commercial development as an herbal supplement and bioprospecting legislation Using a feminist decolonial technoscience approach Foster argues that although patent law is inherently racialized gendered and Western it offered opportunities for Indigenous San peoples South African scientists and Hoodia growers to make unequal claims for belonging within the shifting politics of South Africa This radical interdisciplinary and intersectional account of the multiple materialities of Hoodia illuminates the co constituted connections between law science and the marketplace while demonstrating how these domains value certain forms of knowledge and matter differently

Children's Literature, Domestication, and Social Foundation Layla AbdelRahim, 2014-12-05 This study of children s literature as knowledge culture and social foundation bridges the gap between science and literature and examines the interconnectedness of fiction and reality as a two way road The book investigates how the civilized narrative orders experience by means of segregation domestication breeding and extermination arguing instead that the stories and narratives of wilderness project chaos and infinite possibilities for experiencing the world through a diverse community of life AbdelRahim engages these narratives in a dialogue with each other and traces their expression in the various disciplines and books written for both children and adults analyzing the manifestation of fictional narratives in real life This is both an inter and multi disciplinary endeavor that is reflected in the combination of research methods drawn from anthropology and literary studies as well as in the tracing of the narratives of order and chaos or civilization and wilderness in children s literature and our world Chapters compare and contrast fictional children s books that offer different real world socio economic paradigms such as A A Milne s Winnie the Pooh projecting a civilized monarcho capitalist world Nikolai Nosov s trilogy on The Adventures of Dunno and Friends presenting the challenges and feats of an anarcho socialist society in evolution from primitivism towards technology and Tove Jansson s Moominbooks depicting the harmony of anarchy chaos and wildness AbdelRahim examines the construction transmission and acquisition of knowledge in children s literature by visiting the very nature of literature culture and language and the civilized structures that domesticate the world She brings radically new perspectives to the knowledge culture and construction of human beings making an invaluable contribution to a wide range of disciplines and for those engaged in revolutionizing contemporary debates on the nature of knowledge human identity and the world Patterns of Inheritance : Phenotype Expression in One Family Tree Ray, Wayne,1993
