Verschaeve,2007 Multisensory Integration: Brain, Body and the World Magda L. Dumitru,Achille Pasqualotto,Andriy Myachykov,2016-03-22 Behavioral language and reasoning are expressions of neural functions par excellence as the brain must draw on sensory modalities to gather information on the rest of the body and on the outer world Cortical areas processing the identity and location of the sensory inputs were once thought to be organized with some branches dedicated to complex features Yet current studies have uncovered synergistic effects at early stage cognitions as well as higher level association areas A less hierarchical functional architecture of the brain has emerged such that irrespective of sensory modality inputs are assigned to the best suited cortical substrate American Book Publishing Record ,1995 A Review of the Forest Service Remote Automated Weather Station (RAWS) Network John Zachariassen,2003 The RAWS network and RAWS data use systems are closely reviewed and summarized in this report RAWS is an active program created by the many land management agencies that share a common need for accurate and timely weather data from remote locations for vital operational and program decisions specific to wildland and prescribed fires A RAWS measures basic observable weather parameters such as temperature relative humidity wind speed wind direction and precipitation as well as fuel stick temperature Data from almost 1 900 stations deployed across the conterminous United States Alaska and Hawaii are now routinely used to calculate and forecast daily fire danger indices components and adjective ratings Fire business applications include the National Fire Danger Rating System NFDRS fire behavior and fire use Findings point to the fact that although the RAWS program works and provides needed weather data in support of fire operations there are inefficiencies and significant problem areas that require leadership attention at the National level Resources in Education ,1996
