The River and the Source.

The river and the source is a tale written by a Kenyan author known as Margaret Ogola derived from the western part of Kenya. The book shows the place of a woman in the society where Mbari is the source of the river. The river flows throughout five generations over a period of 100 years. The river and the source significantly shows the theme of change from nineteenth century to the end of twentieth century. The theme of the book is inevitable since at the beginning, Disputes were solved by the council of judgments and later disputes are solved by judgments where the impact of the white man's rule was experienced in terms of worship they traditionally believed in the Waco God the eye of the living man. Later Mbari advises Nyambura to move to the new world of Christianity where they were believed in Christ. Traditionally marriage was mandatory but later the traditional settings were around one would even become a catholic priest. Also before education was informal but later it becomes formal where some of the characters pursue careers such as teaching.

Water Resources Policy Commission, 1951 Genesis 1-11 Thomas A. Keiser, 2013-08-21 Although the object of centuries of study only relatively recently has Genesis 1 11 been analyzed with attention to its literary unity and theological purpose With the latter twentieth century s increased attention to synchronic approaches many scholars began to consider Genesis 1 11 from the perspective of a literary unity in its final form and therefore to consider matters of intent and theological content Yet in spite of these treatments there have been virtually no attempts to view the entire section of Genesis 11 as a literary and theological unity presenting a coherent message This book begins to fill this void by seeking to identify the message of these chapters through utilization of a literary theological approach The study focuses on literary features including the broader issues of surface and deep structure while other topics of special concern include rhetoric as the art of composition for the purpose of communication and persuasion and the use of speech as an important indicator of key issues in Hebrew narrative

Rivers, Memory, And Nation-building Dorothy Zeisler-Vralsted, 2014-11-01 Rivers figure prominently in a nation's historical memory and the Volga and Mississippi have special importance in Russian and American cultures Beginning in the pre modern world both rivers served as critical trade routes connecting cultures in an extensive exchange network while also sustaining populations through their surrounding wetlands and bottomlands In modern times Mother Volga and the Father of Waters became integral parts of national identity contributing to a sense of Russian and American exceptionalism Furthermore both rivers were drafted into service as the means to modernize the nation state through hydropower and navigation Despite being forced into submission for modern day hydrological regimes the Volga and Mississippi Rivers persist in the collective memory and continue to offer solace recreation and sustenance Through their histories we derive a more nuanced view of human interaction with the environment which adds another lens to our understanding of the past
