Dyscalculia: from Science to Education Brian Butterworth, 2018-12-07 Dyscalculia is caused by developmental differences in the structures and patterns of activation in the brain Affected learners require timely and tailored interventions informed and shaped by neurological findings In this ground breaking text Professor Butterworth explains the latest research in the science of dyscalculia in a clear non technical way Crucially he shows that dyscalculia is caused by a core deficit in the ability to accurately and swiftly represent the number of objects in a set an ability that underpins learning arithmetic and clearly differentiates dyscalculia from other forms of early maths learning difficulties Butterworth uniquely links research to pedagogical practice to explain how science can be used for the identification of dyscalculia and for the development of strategies to best help affected learners acquire arithmetical competence The text provides robust interventions that focus on helping pupils to strengthen their ability to process numerosities and link them to the familiar number symbols counting words and digits It shows that science has clear and specific implications both for assessment and intervention A landmark publication for the dyscalculia community Dyscalculia From Science to Education will become an essential resource for teachers professionals parents and sufferers as well as for university courses that include specific learning disabilities Making Markets in the Welfare

State Jane R. Gingrich,2011-06-23 Over the past three decades market reforms have transformed public services such as education health and care of the elderly Whereas previous studies present markets as having similar and largely non political effects this book shows that political parties structure markets in diverse ways to achieve distinct political aims Left wing attempts to sustain the legitimacy of the welfare state are compared with right wing wishes to limit the state and empower the private sector Examining a broad range of countries time periods and policy areas Jane R Gingrich helps readers make sense of the complexity of market reforms in the industrialized world The use of innovative multi case studies and in depth interviews with senior European policymakers enriches the debate and brings clarity to this multifaceted topic Scholars and students working on the policymaking process in this central area will be interested in this new conceptualization of market reform Evidence check 2
