Crowther, 2005-07-19 PREFACE The Joint FAO IAEA Division of Nuclear Techniques in Food and Agriculture is involved in agricultural research and development and assists Member States of FAO and IAEA in improving strategies to ensure food security through the use of nuclear techniques and related biotechnologies where such techniques have a valuable and often unique role In particular molecular diagnostic methods have rapidly evolved in the past twenty years since the advent of the Polymerase Chain Reaction PCR They are used in a wide range of agricultural areas such as improving soil and water management producing better crop varieties diagnosing plant and animal diseases controlling insect pests and improving food quality and safety The uses of nucleic acid directed methods have increased significantly in the past five years and have made important contributions to disease control country programmes for improving national and international trade These developments include the more routine use of PCR as a diagnostic tool in veterinary diagnostic laboratories However there are many problems associated with the transfer and particularly the application of this technology These include lack of consideration of the establishment of quality assured procedures the required set up of the laboratory and the proper training of staff This can lead to a situation where results are not assured This book gives a comprehensive account of the practical aspects of PCR and strong consideration is given to ensure its optimal use in a laboratory environment This includes the setting up of a PCR laboratory Good Laboratory Practice and standardised of PCR protocols Handbook of Immunohistochemistry and in Situ Hybridization of Human Carcinomas M. A. Hayat, 2005-01-31 Immunohistochemistry is the use of specific antibodies to stain particular molecular species in situ This technique has allowed the identification of many more cell types than could be visualized by classical histology particularly in the immune system and among the scattered hormone secreting cells of the endocrine system and has the potential to improve diagnosis prognosis and therapeutic options of cancer Handbook of Immunohistochemistry and in Situ Hybridization of Human Carcinomas discusses all aspects of immunohistochemistry and in situ hybridization technologies and the important role they play in reaching a cancer diagnosis It provides step by step instructions on the methods of additional molecular technologies such as DNA microarrays and microdissection along with the benefits and limitations of each method The topics of region specific gene expression its role in cancer development and the techniques that assist in the understanding of the molecular basis of disease are relevant and necessary in science today This book is the second volume of three planned individually sold volumes on this topic Like Volume 1 this book fully explains the principles and applications of modern techniques used in the field of molecular genetics It will be of particular interest to pathologists and molecular pathologists conducting both academic and or clinical research The only book available that translates molecular genetics into cancer diagnosis The results of each Immunohistochemical and in situ hybridization method are presented in the form of color illustrations Methods discussed were either developed or refined by expert

Hunt, Frederick Livesey, 2000 With the complete genomes of many organisms now available and the first draft of the human genome imminent there is an increasing demand from researchers in a range of disciplines for techniques that will allow them to utilize these resources in their own research This book provides a comprehensive treatment of the range of methods available for gene and protein expression profiling in a variety of systems These include large scale methods such as cDNA microarrays serial analysis of gene expression SAGE and proteomics and also methods suitable for non specialist laboratories such as differential display and suppression subtraction hybridization In all cases the chapters have been written by the developers of these methods or experienced users and include detailed protocols to facilitate the introduction of these methods to the readers laboratories Taxonomy of Mexican Diploid Wild Potato (Solanum Sect. Petota) Species Sabina Irene Lara-Cabrera, 2001 The Nidoviruses Ehud Lavi, Susan R. Weiss, Susan T. Hingley, 2012-12-06 In 1996 the International Committee for Taxonomy of Viruses ICTV recognized the name Nidovirales as the formal name for Coronaviridae and Arteriviridae In recognition of this change and in response to the wishes of our colleagues we named this meeting for the first time The International Symposium of Nidoviruses The meeting in the wooded environment of Lake Harmony Pennsylvania provided a stimulating opportunity for assessing the progress made in the field since the last meeting in Segovia Spain in 1997 Over 150 scientists from academia and industry attended the meeting The meeting hosted senior members of the Nidovirus community some of whom have been studying the subject for over 20 years as well as younger scientists the next generation of Nidovirologists The traditional informal format the shared meals the social activities and the relatively inexpensive venue made the meeting a popular adventure In her opening remarks Susan Weiss showed pictures from previous meetings reminding us how young we used to look Neal Nathanson was our keynote speaker at the opening night giving an overview on how viral pathogenesis studies helped in shaping the evolution of viral research and vaccine development The scientific program of the meeting was divided into 9 sessions including 10 keynote presentations The meeting opened with a session on epidemiology evolution and genome structure Sasha Gorbalenya shared with us insights gained from comparative sequence analysis emphasizing the unifying traits among nidoviruses but also pointed out the remaining black holes Lymphocytes Sarah L. Rowland-Jones, Andrew J. McMichael, 2000 Cellular immunology is a rapidly moving field in which recent advances have made significant contributions to our understanding of the immune response to infection and malignancy These in turn have given rise to new therapeutic opportunities in areas such as vaccines and immunotherapy Many investigators have been discouraged by the complicated protocols involved in cellular immunological studies as illustrated by the meticulous care required for the generation of antigen specific T cells
