

2. How does Ishiguro use setting, imagery, and characterization to explore the effects of living in a dystopian society?

Never Let Me Go is a dystopian novel written by Ishiguro Kazuo. A dystopian society is considered as a civilization brought up by human misery, an oppressive community, diseases, or overcrowding. Ishiguro uses particular locations to express the effects of living in such society, shown through scenes such as the recovery centres and the hospitals. Ishiguro uses imagery such as the description of Hailsham during Kathy, Tommy's, and Ruth's childhood.

Ishiguro's use of characterisation expresses of Kathy shows how living in a dystopian society creates a sense of loneliness. Kathy starts off the story by the use of words such as "I" or "I'm"; Kathy does not mention other donors or carer's names, which indicates that she is not close with them, nor does she not have many friends. She expresses her feelings towards the donors, and how they 'complete' far before their fourth donation. Kathy explains that there is the solitude about being a carer, as "You spend hour after hours, on your own, driving across the country, centre to centre, hospital to hospital, sleeping in overnights, no one to talk to you about your worries, no one to have a laugh with." Kathy describes that she has learnt to live with it, that she is immune to this loneliness. This state of loneliness expresses that the story is set in a dystopian society by how one can be isolated from others, even though they are surrounded by people. The whole system of cloning brings melancholy to the story, but with a career as a carer like Kathy, this separation from carers and donors creates othering.

Ishiguro uses the descriptions of certain scenes to express that the story is told in a dystopian society, such as the Cottages and the unusable boat. Kathy describes the Cottages to be the remains of a farm, where it had an old farmhouse, barns, outhouses, and others which were so ruined that they were falling down which suggests that the Cottages are not well looked after, and how they do not receive funding from the government to try and fix it. This setting creates an air of fakeness, especially with the two senior veterans, Susie and Greg, copying many of their mannerism from television shows, such "Gawd help us." When Kathy, Tommy and Ruth visit a dilapidated which has meaning to the relationship that the three characters have as a carer and two donors. Ruth had two reasons to go and see the boat. The first, is that life in the recovery centre is absolutely boring and dull, and she
