

The background of the cover is a photograph of a modern building. The building has a glass facade that reflects the sky. A prominent feature is a large, curved green wall that covers a significant portion of the building's exterior. The green wall is composed of various plants and shrubs, creating a dense, vertical garden. The building's architecture is contemporary, with clean lines and a mix of materials, including glass and concrete. The overall image conveys a sense of sustainability and modern design.
