What gender mainstreaming means in practice Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-10-10 The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO has continuously demonstrated within its work that gender equality is not simply a matter of human rights but is key to eliminating poverty and hunger It is only by closing the gender gap that sustainable agriculture and rural development can reach their full potential Consequently FAO is committed to promoting gender equality in all of its interventions as well as by building knowledge identifying promising practices and widely disseminating these among member states and national partners This publication focuses on case studies from five member countries of the European Union EU These illustrate how gender equality issues can be addressed in agriculture and rural development policies including fisheries and aquaculture forestry and livestock programmes and practices This publication forms part of FAO s wider efforts to collect analyse and disseminate promising practices on gender mainstreaming

Voices in the Media Gaëlle Planchenault, 2015-10-22 Verbal performances are often encountered in the media where they are used to embody characters or social archetypes Performed voices define the norm as well as the linguistic Others and by doing so circulate associated values and linguistic ideologies This book explores the idea that far from simply being exercises in verbal skill and flair performances of social ethnic or gendered voices in the media not only have the power to accomplish ideological work they are also sites of linguistic tension and negotiation Critically examining performances of French voices in the media this book raises the following questions How are repertoires of voices constructed and subsequently perpetuated in the media How do the stereotypic personae these voices contribute to build become familiar to national as well as transnational audiences How do such performed voices reproduce hegemonic ideologies of standard and non standard languages and participate in the perpetuation of social discriminations How are these performed voices commodified into cultural products of otherness that may later be reclaimed by stigmatized communities Following an innovative framework which allows for analysis of performances of varied voices and their impact in the media sphere Voices in the Media offers a new approach to the linguistics of media performance

Housing Booms in Gateway Cities David Ley, 2023-06-29 HOUSING BOOMS IN GATEWAY CITIES David Ley examines the development of housing booms and policies intended to stimulate or limit them Utilising a comparative approach in five gateway cities he provides a superb understanding of the politics of booms lifting the debate beyond narrow housing and real estate studies This book is required reading for anyone interested in global cities housing markets or comparative urbanism

Manuel B Aalbers Professor of Human Geography KU Leuven Belgium A stellar contribution to housing and its financialisation as central to the capitalist project globally Housing Booms offers a wonderful window into the ascendancy of the secondary circuit of real estate in Singapore Hong Kong Sydney Vancouver and London Critically through careful empirically rigorous comparison an eminent urban social scientist urges us to understand the importance of placing urban housing theoretically

Loretta Lees Director of the Initiative on Cities Boston University Mastering a wealth of information and insights from five gateway cities David Ley provides fresh and inspiring explanation of both common global logics and diverse local trajectories of housing booms in the era of financialisation and asset based accumulation A timely and ground breaking contribution re positioning housing to the centrality pervasively felt in everyday life but largely unacknowledged in mainstream social science

George Lin Chair Professor of Geography University of Hong Kong In Housing Booms in Gateway Cities renowned geographer Dr David Ley delivers a detailed exploration of housing markets in Hong Kong Singapore Sydney Vancouver and London and explains why these gateway cities have seen dramatic increases in residential real estate prices

since the 1980s The author describes how the globalization of real estate has rapidly inflated demand and uncoupled local housing prices from local wages causing acute problems of affordability availability and inequality The book implicates government policy in massive real estate price inflation describing a shift from welfare based to asset based societies It also highlights the relatively unique experience in Singapore where asset based housing policy has encouraged the dispersion of ownership and accumulation through an increased supply of subsidized leasehold apartments and the regulation of disruptive investment flows Housing Booms in Gateway Cities is an ideal resource for academics students and policymakers with an interest in urban geography sociology and planning housing studies and any of the cities discussed in the book It is an innovative treatment of housing as a central category in wealth accumulation in urban economies and societies Spiritual and Religious Tourism Ruth Dowson, Jabar Yaqub, Razaq Raj, 2019-08-12 This book reviews tourist motivations for making religious or spiritual journeys and the management aspects related to them It explores sacred journeys across both traditional religions such as Christianity and Islam and newer forms of pilgrimage faith systems and quasi religious activities such as sport music and food Demonstrating to the reader the intrinsic elements and events that play a crucial role within the destination management process it provides a timely re assessment of the increasing interconnections between religion and spirituality as a motivation for travel Providing researchers and students of tourism religious studies anthropology and related subjects with an important review of the topic this book aims to bridge the ever widening gap between specialists within the religious tourism management and education sectors Future North Janike Kampevd Larsen, Peter Hemmersam, 2018-04-09 The changing Arctic is of broad political concern and is being studied across many fields This book investigates ongoing changes in the Arctic from a landscape perspective It examines settlements and territories of the Barents Sea Coast Northern Norway the Russian Kola Peninsula Svalbard and Greenland from an interdisciplinary design based and future oriented perspective The Future North project has travelled Arctic regions since 2012 mapped landscapes and settlements documented stories and practices and discussed possible futures with local actors Reflecting the multidisciplinary nature of the project the authors in this book look at political and economic strategies urban development land use strategies and local initiatives in specific locations that are subject to different forces of change This book explores current material conditions in the Arctic as effects of industrial and political agency and social initiatives It provides a combined view on the built environment and urbanism as well as the cultural and material landscapes of the Arctic The chapters move beyond single disciplinary perspectives on the Arctic and engage with futures cultural landscapes and communities in ways that build on both architectural and ethnographic participatory methods Advancing Culture of Living with Landslides Matjaž Mikoš, Vít Vilímek, Yueping Yin, Kyoji Sassa, 2017-05-17 This volume contains peer reviewed papers from the Fourth World Landslide Forum organized by the International Consortium on Landslides ICL the Global Promotion Committee of the International Programme on Landslides IPL University of Ljubljana UL and Geological Survey of
