Henig, Richard C.

Hula, Marion Orr, Desiree S. Pedescleaux, 2001-01-22 Why is it so difficult to design and implement fundamental educational reform in large city schools in spite of broad popular support for change How does the politics of race complicate the challenge of building and sustaining coalitions for improving urban schools These questions have provoked a great deal of theorizing but this is the first book to explore the issues on the basis of extensive solid evidence Here a group of political scientists examines education reform in Atlanta Baltimore Detroit and Washington D C where local governmental authority has passed from white to black leaders The authors show that black administrative control of big city school systems has not translated into broad improvements in the quality of public education within black led cities Race can be crucial however in fostering the broad civic involvement perhaps most needed for school reform In each city examined reform efforts often arise but collapse partly because leaders are unable to craft effective political coalitions that would commit community resources to a concrete policy agenda What undermines the leadership according to the authors is the complex role of race in each city First public authority does not guarantee access to private resources usually still controlled by white economic elites Second local authorities must interact with external actors at the state and national levels who remain predominantly white Finally issues of race divide the African American community itself and often place limits on what leaders can and cannot do Filled with insightful explanations together with recommendations for policy change this book is an important component of the debate now being waged among researchers education activists and the community as a whole Ghosts Subtract!

Therese M. Shea, 2018-12-15 Everyone knows some ghosts are helpful spirits they may even help with math In this high interest volume a unique mix of eerie info and math exercises young mathematicians can practice their subtraction skills using illustrated ghost models as well as hone their mental math strategies The comprehensible text provides valuable hints that readers can apply to all kinds of subtraction equations they may encounter Fact boxes about ghosts and eerie images will attract even reluctant readers and an answer key provides opportunities for self assessment Subtraction has never been spookier or more fun Resources in Education ,2001-10 Whatever it Takes Paul Tough,2009 A portrait of African American activist Geoffrey Canada describes his radical approach to eliminating inner city poverty one that proposes to transform the lives of poor children by changing their schools their families and their neighborhoods at the same time

The ... Mental Measurements Yearbook Oscar Krisen Buros,1985 Developmentally Appropriate Practice Carol Gestwicki,1995 The increasing numbers of young children cared for by others beyond family has naturally led to questions about the most helpful practices to nurture their development Now educators care givers administrators and parents can get the direction they need Practical and comprehensive this book offers clear discussions on the specifics of what is and is not developmentally appropriate for children from birth through age 8 Family-School Links Alan Booth,Judith F. Dunn,2013-10-31 Based on the presentations and discussions from a national symposium on family school links held at the Pennsylvania State University this volume brings together psychologists sociologists educators and policymakers studying the bidirectional effects between schools and families This topic the links between families and schools and how these affect children s educational achievement encompasses a host of questions each of key social and educational significance How far does parental involvement in schools affect children s experiences and achievement at school What explains the great differences between schools families and communities in the extent of such involvement Are these differences a matter of school practices or do they reflect much broader social and cultural divisions What is the nature of the impact schools have on children and their families How can family school partnerships be fostered in a way that helps children The chapter authors consider these questions and related issues present different perspectives highlight various aspects of the issues and suggest widely differing answers This volume s goal is to provide the reader with current information on what is known about family school community links and to provoke new ways of thinking about these links and their implications for children s education and well being The Respiratory Therapist as Disease Manager Harry R Leen,2019-11-27 Written for both students and practicing clinicians The Respiratory Therapist as Disease Manager is a foundational resource for the Respiratory Therapist who desires to augment their acute care and technical skills with a knowledge base that will enable them to competently perform the duties of a Pulmonary Disease Manager Oversight Hearing on Testing/assessment/evaluation to Improve Learning in Our Schools United States.
