Body paragraph: One reason to get feedback on your writing is that another reader can help you clear up parts of your paper that don't make sense. In our own writing, sometimes things that are completely clear to us might confuse our readers. For example, I recently wrote a paper about the benefits of eating home-cooked meals, and I dropped in the word "braise" without much context. When a classmate of mine read the paper, he didn't know what the word meant, so I added a brief definition when I revised the paper. His feedback helped me clarify something that likely would have been confusing to many of my readers. Feedback for clarity is so important that Smith (2016) even suggested that "the absolute best way" to get a better grade on a paper is to start by simply asking a couple readers to note any questions that they have when they read your paper (p. 1). The importance of getting feedback can't be overstated.
