understanding of the causes of progress and failure in the mastery of literacy with repercussions for children's assessment and teacher education. These new discoveries also allow teachers to transcend the old debates in reading instruction: phonics versus whole language and offer the path to a synthesis. At the same time, research with teachers about their own implementation of methods and the development of their own knowledge about the teaching of literacy has produced a fresh analysis of the practice of literacy teaching. Inspired by these developments, teachers, teacher educators, and researchers worked together to produce this volume which promotes the integration of literacy research and practice.

Microsoft Office 365 2017 for Mac: An Easy Guide for Beginners Michael Galeso, 2017-01-11 Microsoft has released another update to the Microsoft Office 365 suite of programs. This latest update for the Office suite is designed as the initial versions to meet the needs of Mac users in the professional, home, or school spheres. Consequently, it has received rave reviews for its attention to the demands of the market. The updated Suite of programs includes Microsoft Word, Microsoft PowerPoint, Microsoft Excel, and Microsoft Outlook. This update is an enhanced version of the model released in July 2015 for the OS X software. Microsoft PowerPoint in this version boasts an improved user interface, provides users with new and modern animation panes, Collaboration, and the Threaded Comments feature that enables seamless integration of notations, pointers, and slides. Microsoft Excel is designed to be compatible with the basic keyboard shortcuts. It also boasts features that include Analysis Toolpak and Pivot Table, both ideal for efficient analytical functions and filters.

Resourcing an Agroecological Urbanism Chiara Tornaghi, Michiel Dehaene, 2021-03-07 Foregrounding an innovative and radical perspective on food planning, this book makes the case for an agroecological urbanism in which food is a key component in the reinvention of new and just social arrangements and ecological practices. Building on state-of-the-art and participatory research on farming, urbanism, food policy, and advocacy in the field of food system transformation, this book changes the way food planning has been conceptualised to date and invites the reader to fully embrace the transformative potential of an agroecological perspective. Bringing in dialogue from both the rural and urban, the producer and consumer, this book challenges conventional approaches that see them as separate spheres whose problems can only be solved by a reconnection. Instead, it argues for moving away from a food-in-the-city approach towards an urbanism perspective in which the economic and spatial processes that currently drive urbanisation will be unpacked and dissected, and new strategies for changing those processes into more equal and just ones are put forward. Drawing on the nascent field of urban political agroecology, this text brings together i) theoretical reconceptualisations of urbanism in relation to food planning and the emergence of new agrarian questions; ii) critical analysis of experimental methodologies and performing arts for public dialogue, reflexivity, and food sovereignty research; iii) experiences of resourceful land management including urban land use and land tenure change; and iv) theoretical and practical exploration of post-capitalist economics that bring consumers and producers together to make the case for an agroecological urbanism. Aimed at advanced students and academics in agroecology, sustainable food planning, urban
