This space-egg houses all necessary items one could possibly need, bathroom, kitchen, lighting, a bed and several niches to store the stuff. The nose can be opened automatically and functions as a kind of porch.

BLOBV83

The design started with the idea of a floating pod, an extension to the house, one with heavy, specially built building requirements.

With the existing site limitations and knowing these boundaries at the same time, it was proven by designing a mobile unit, a blob.

An a-frame construction and having a high dome of air inflated around the shell building module.

BLOB, as a bubble, worked on levels as the ground, floating in the smooth building space.

Basically building a frame from covered up with a stretching material and painted with polyurethane. Shaped by handling the polymer time and time again, finally, the space was built up with niches, typically 40cm. The dome is inflated the water to make that was filled up with light insulation.

The space-egg houses all necessary items one could possibly need: bathroom, kitchen, lighting, storage and several niches to store the stuff. The nose can be opened automatically and functions as a kind of porch.

This bubble can naturally use as an office, a greenhouse, a museum, a garden house, or any other space. The material used is polyurethane, water can be a big concern and a water level is very close to needed.
