Workbook for News Reporting and Writing Brian S. Brooks, Missouri Group, George Kennedy, Daryl R. Moen, Don Ranly, 2010-11-10 It's a tumultuous time in journalism as media forms evolve and new models emerge. There are few clear answers but no one is more prepared than The Missouri Group to tackle these issues head on and to teach students the core enduring journalism skills they need to succeed whether they write for the local paper, a professional blog, cable news or even work in public relations. The Civil Power of the News Jackie Harrison, 2019-10-18 This landmark book is concerned with the civil power of the news. This power can be seen in the ways the news engages with public sentiment through a focus on three invariant civil concerns: identity, legitimacy and risk. The book analyses how news stories engage with these concerns to make civil and anti-civil judgements which influence public sentiment and determine the boundaries we place and maintain around the society we live in. Through historical and contemporary examples of this boundary shaping and maintenance, The Civil Power of the News presents a bold and original account of the architecture of news, the influence it has on our conceptions of civility and ultimately the power it wields. The Complete Newspaper Resource Book Jane Lamb, 1985 A tool and sourcebook with reproducible pages aids teachers using the newspaper in the classroom. Retail Market News as an Aid in Marketing Antoine Banna, Arthur William Jasper, Edmond S. The chapters in this book investigate the implications for audiences, industry and society as news becomes mobile. Wherever we go, news from anywhere can reach us on our smartphones. And wherever we are, we can search up information specific to that place. News is produced by mobile journalists, MoJos as well as by citizens armed with smartphones reporting breaking news from crisis zones where information is uncertain or hyperlocal, news from neighbourhoods where little happens. Mobile technology allows citizens to engage deeply with a cause or to skim headlines so they know a little about a lot of things. News is distributed on mobile networks and consumed by mobile audiences as they make their daily way through time and space coloured by their mobile devices. It is consumed in the niches of life. It intersects with place in new ways as geolocated news. It pursues us wherever we are through push notifications. And news has moved from fixed to fluid, a flow of updateable information rather than a regularly issued product. In this book, the contributors take varied viewpoints on mobility and news, its impact on what news is, how journalists produce it and how it fits into everybody's everyday life. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Digital Journalism.
