Low-Income Students, Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa Melanie Walker, Monica McLean, 2022-07-15 This book explores learning outcomes for low income rural and township youth at five South African universities The book is framed as a contribution to southern and Africa centred scholarship adapting Amartya Sen s capability approach and a framework of key concepts capabilities functionings context conversion factors poverty and agency to investigate opportunities and obstacles to achieved student outcomes This approach allows a reimagining of inclusive learning outcomes to encompass the multi dimensional value of a university education and a plurality of valued cognitive and non cognitive outcomes for students from low income backgrounds whose experiences are strongly shaped by hardship Based on capability theorising and student voices the book proposes for policy and practice a set of contextual higher education capability domains and corresponding functionings orientated to more justice and more equality for each person to have the opportunities to be and to do what they have reason to value The book concludes that sufficient material resources are necessary to get into university and flourish while there the benefits of a university education should be rich and multi dimensional so that they can result in functionings in all areas of life as well as work and future study the inequalities and exclusion of the labour market and pathways to further study must be addressed by wider economic and social policies for inclusive learning outcomes to be meaningful and that universities ought to be doing more to enable black working class students to participate and succeed Low Income Students Human Development and Higher Education in South Africa makes an original contribution to capabilitarian scholarship conceptually in theorising a South based multi dimensional student well being higher education matrix and a rich reconceptualisation of learning outcomes as well as empirically by conducting rigorous longitudinal in depth mixed methods research on students lives and experiences in higher education in South Africa The audience for the book includes higher education researchers international capabilitarian scholars practitioners and policy makers

Perspectives on Student Affairs in South Africa

McGlory Speckman, Martin Mandew, 2014-07-17 The goal of Perspectives on Student Affairs in South Africa is to generate interest in student affairs in South Africa. The papers contained herein are based on best practice local experience and well researched international and local theories. The papers in this book deal with matters pertaining to international and national trends in student affairs, academic development, access and retention, counselling and material support for students coming from disadvantaged backgrounds. They are linked to national and international developments as described in the first two papers. This publication will assist both young and experienced practitioners as they grow into their task of developing the students entrusted to them. All contributors are South Africans with a great deal of experience in student affairs and all are committed to the advancement of student affairs in South Africa. The editors are former heads of student affairs portfolios at two leading South African universities.

Scholarship Models around the Globe - Embracing Diversity, New Trends and Opportunities Katherine Meltzoff, Elsa Justino, Ines Casquilho-Martins, 2025-05-14 Scholarship Models Around the Globe Embracing Diversity New Trends and Opportunities offers a comprehensive exploration of global higher education funding systems and their impact on students' academic journeys and career trajectories. With a focus on equity, inclusion and the challenges faced by historically marginalized groups, this volume provides insights into diverse scholarship models across different regions. By examining the interplay between financial support and access to higher education, the book highlights both the successes and limitations of various funding initiatives. It explores social mobility, fosters sustainable development and addresses systemic inequalities while offering policy recommendations for more inclusive and effective programmes. Engaging with comparative case studies from Africa, Latin America, the Middle East and beyond, this volume is an essential resource for researchers, educators and policymakers seeking to understand the evolving dynamics of higher education funding. Rich with diverse perspectives, this book highlights emerging trends and innovative practices, making it an essential part of the ongoing conversation on educational equity and the future of global scholarship programs.
