Critical Sexuality Studies, Lavender Languages, and Everyday Life Michelle Marzullo, William L. Leap, 2024-09-05 Critical Sexuality Studies CSS and Lavender Languages Linguistics LLL are leading modes of inquiry in two different fields of sexuality studies In this edited collection chapters reveal how these can be combined to produce a new approach to analyzing language use sexuality and gender and discourse on authority and power

The book demonstrates how together LLL and CSS iterate each other through their mutual concern with sexuality gender and power especially when considering the materiality of daily life Authors then compare CSS to other fields of sexuality studies to reveal commonalities and tensions that are addressed via the LLL based interventions exemplified in this volume The body of the book organizes examples of Lavender Languages projects around a four part CSS framework with an introductory essay for each section indicating the connections between the CSS theme and the LLL examples The volume concludes with reflections showing how CSS interests in sexuality and power benefits from LLL with its emphasis on socially focused studies of discourse and text Strengthening pathways to future knowledge making this book provides a detailed roadmap for scholarly and activist engagements in language centered critical sexuality studies

75 Years After Partition

Amit Ranjan, Farooq Sulehria, 2025-07-24 This book explores how the 1947 Partition of British India not only divided people and territories but also deepened cultural rifts in postcolonial India Pakistan and Bangladesh especially between Hindus and Muslims The colonial divide and rule strategy which intensified religious divides laid the foundation for ongoing tensions Even as the 75th anniversary of Partition approached in 2022 this cultural segregation remains prevalent Over the years mass media such as films press and television have significantly evolved in India Bangladesh and Pakistan playing a pivotal role in manufacturing disseminating and perpetuating the narrative of cultural differences based on religion These cultural platforms have gained even more influence with the rise of majoritarian nationalism in both India and Pakistan The chapters in this volume analyse how language cinema and textbooks contributed to the divide instead of bridging gaps and why unresolved questions from the Partition continue to affect the region The chapters cover the communalization of Hindi and Urdu how textbooks in India Bangladesh and Pakistan narrate Partition the role of mass media in India and Pakistan in presenting Partition and the portrayal of Partition in films across India Bangladesh and Pakistan This book is aimed at students researchers and scholars interested in postcolonial studies South Asian history cultural studies and media analysis The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of India Review

Language for Specific Purposes

Giuliana Elena Garzone, Dermot Heaney, Giorgia Riboni, 2017-01-06 This volume brings together work by both well known scholars and emerging researchers in the various areas of Language for Specific Purposes LSP such as political legal medical and business discourse The volume is divided into three parts in order to align rather than separate three different but related aspects of LSP namely translation linguistic research and domain specific communication on the web Underlying all the contributions here is the growing awareness of the ever increasing multiformity of specialised communication and the ever wider social implications of the communicative situations in which it is embedded especially where it involves the need to move across languages cultures and modes as in translation and interpreting The contributions consistently bear witness to the need to review received notions pose new questions and explore fresh perspectives The picture that emerges is one of extreme complexity in which researchers into specifically linguistic aspects of LSPs and their translation across languages and media declare their awareness of the pressing need to come to terms with a wide range of social pragmatic intercultural and political factors above and beyond socio technical knowledge of the domains under investigation

War Narratives in Post-Conflict Societies Michal Mochtak, 2024-02-29 This book studies war narratives and their role in the political arenas of post conflict societies with a focus on the former Yugoslavia How do politicians in postwar societies talk about the past war How do they discursively represent vulnerable social groups created by the conflict Does the nature of this representation depend on the politicians ideology personal characteristics or their record of combat service The book answers these questions by pairing natural language processing tools and large corpora of parliamentary debates collected in three southeast European post conflict societies Bosnia Herzegovina Croatia and Serbia Using the latest advances in computer science the book explores patterns in the war discourse of the political elites of these countries and discusses how politicians talk about war in terms of common narratives and shared frameworks Mapping over 20 years of parliamentary debates the book presents a new perspective on the role of the legacies of war in public space and develops theoretical arguments about reconciliation in post conflict societies The wars of the 1990s and the breakup of Yugoslavia have created three totally different settings for remembering the past conflicts in these countries despite their common history It is a story of victorious battles Croatia past grievances Bosnia Herzegovina and denial Serbia showing the different flavors of past wars in various national contexts that are symptomatic of many post conflict societies in different parts of the world This book will be of much interest to students of war and conflict studies southeastern European politics discourse analysis and international relations
