Girls and Women in STEM Janice Koch, Beverly Irby, Barbara Polnick, 2014-01-01 Encouraging the participation of girls and women in science technology engineering and mathematics STEM remains as vital today as it was in the 1970s hence the sub title A Never Ending Story This volume is about ongoing advocacy on behalf of the future workforce in fields that lie on the cutting edge of society's future Acknowledging that deeply embedded beliefs about social and academic entitlement take generations to overcome the editors of this volume forge forward in the knowledge that these chapters will resonate with readers and that those in positions of access will learn more about how to provide opportunities for girls and women that propel them into STEM fields This volume will give the reader insight into what works and what does not work for providing the message to girls and women that indeed STEM fields are for them in this second decade of the 21st century Contributions to this volume will connect to readers at all levels of STEM education and workforce participation Courses that address teaching and learning in STEM fields as well as courses in women's studies and the sociology of education will be enhanced by accessing this volume Further students and scholars in STEM fields will identify with the success stories related in some of these chapters and find inspiration in the ways their own journeys are reflected by this volume

Leave no child behind UNESCO, 2022-06-20 To leave no child behind UNESCO developed the first global report of this scope on boys' disengagement from education bringing together qualitative and quantitative evidence from over 140 countries This report provides an overview on the global situation on boys disengagement from and disadvantage in education. It identifies factors influencing boys' participation, progression and learning outcomes in education. It also analyses responses by governments and partners and examines promising policies and programmes. Finally, it includes recommendations on how to engage boys with education and address disadvantage. While girls continue to face severe disadvantages and inequalities in education, the report shows that boys in many countries are at greater risk than girls of repeating grades, failing to complete different education levels and having poorer learning outcomes in school. No less than 132 million boys of primary and secondary school age are out of school. They urgently require support. As this report shows, supporting boys does not mean that girls lose out and vice versa. Addressing boys' disengagement not only benefits boys' learning, employment opportunities, income and well-being; it is also highly beneficial for achieving gender equality and desirable economic, social and health outcomes.
