Deconstructing Digital Capitalism and the Smart Society Mel van Elteren, 2025-01-01 Today's critics of big online platforms tend to consider privacy breaches monopolistic practices and the deployment of surveillance technologies as the main problems Internet reformers suggest the answers to these issues reside in more and better regulations While the questions of privacy data and size are indeed important they are secondary however to a deeper set of concerns about platform ownership and control and who benefits from the current status quo This book examines these issues and offers an historical overview and in depth analysis of digital capitalism and its prevailing practices as it has become increasingly intertwined with various forms of online surveillance behavior modification and the delegation of managerial functions to algorithmic and automated systems in platform economies The approach taken extends to the wider array of data driven internet connected and automated systems that involve digital devices and technologies centered on three smart spaces the smart self the smart home and the smart city Antitrust and other regulatory measures by the European Union and the United States that are aimed at restraining platform capitalism are also discussed The focus in particular is on recent developments regarding artificial intelligence and their potentially harmful implications This is followed by a critical look at proposals for more far reaching institutional reforms revolving around the creation of forms of platform socialism that build partly on existing practices of platform cooperativism The book concludes with a diagnosis of the global situation among the competing digital empires the United States the European Union and China and considers whether or not under the present conditions any form of democratic platform socialism could materialize on a wider scale in the near future

Exhibiting the Archive Peter Lester, 2022-06-24 Exhibiting the Archive examines the role that exhibition plays in archives and analyses the impact they are understood to have on how users and visitors experience the archive Drawing on research conducted in Europe North America and Australia the book analyses the key theoretical and social influences on exhibition making in archives today and discusses the role of exhibitions in the archives of tomorrow This is the first in depth study to consider exhibition as more than outreach or advocacy it frames exhibition as an encounter with archives and with people and interprets it as a mechanism for change within the archive Against a backdrop of increasing digital activity Lester asks what experience within the physical space of the archive could be Drawing on ideas of spatiality and embodiment as well as social justice and activism Lester considers the role of exhibitions within the physical archive and the part they can play in reshaping how experience is understood to happen within it Exhibiting the Archive offers a new perspective on the archive that will be of interest to academics and students engaged in the study of archives and records The discussions of cutting edge practice offer new insights into how exhibitions are conceived and made and will therefore be of interest to practitioners around the world Reimagining Justice, Human Rights and Leadership in Africa Everisto

Benyera,2019-08-08 Failed attempts in Africa to develop democratised and instil virtues of a just state and society which promote benevolent leadership and advance political and economic rights and freedoms call for a new imagination By exploring a wide range of issues concerning justice human rights and leadership this book makes two major contributions to the extant literature in each of these areas Firstly as a project in decoloniality it constitutes an epistemic break from mainstream logics and approaches to understanding state society and development in Africa presenting an approach that is filtered through a Euro American lens that reifies the hegemony of a particular spatio temporality In other words it emphasises the importance of situatedness by thinking from rather than about or with Africa And secondly it addresses a fundamental shortcoming in decolonial thought which is often criticised for rejecting western paradigms of thought without providing viable alternatives The issues covered include state failure in Africa the geopolitics of US and NATO military interventions on the continent individual states responses to international law indigenous moral political leadership authentic inclusion of marginalised voices in development practice an endogenous approach to environmental ethics and a spiritualist reflection on the need for Africa to chart her own course to political social and economic redemption By searching for alternative paths to justice human rights and leadership this book represents an effort to actualise the core vision of the African Renaissance to find African solutions for African problems The Evolution of Human Wisdom Celia

Deane-Drummond,Agustín Fuentes,2017-10-18 This volume addresses key questions about the puzzle of human origins by focusing on a topic that is largely unexplored thus far namely the evolution of human wisdom How can we best understand the human capacity for wisdom where did it come from and how did it emerge It explores lines of convergence and divergence between Christian theology and evolutionary anthropology in its search to identify different aspects of wisdom Critical to this discussion are the philosophical difficulties that arise when two very different methodological approaches to the manner of humans becoming wise are brought together The relative importance and significance of human language is another area of intense debate in defining the meaning of wisdom and its expression How far and to what extent does a theologically informed wisdom discourse push evolutionary anthropology to formulate new questions and vice versa This volume shows that there is no simple consonance between evolutionary anthropology and theology Yet each discipline has much to learn from the other the authors are in agreement that even in the midst of an awareness of dissonance and some tension there can still be mutual respect The goal of this book is to begin to develop a trans disciplinary approach to the evolution of human wisdom where each discipline is challenged to ask questions in a new way This volume tackles the relationship between theology and science in a fresh way by focusing on a specific theme wisdom that is equally generative for both theology and evolutionary anthropology
