Proton Waja Car Parts:

Developmentalism and Dependency in Southeast Asia Jason P. Abbott, 2003-08-29 This book provides a detailed cross country study of the automotive industry in South East Asia Abbott argues that contrary to prevailing opinion the diffusion of manufacturing in the Asia Pacific has been characterized by hierarchical networks of production linked to Japan for technology

Emerging States at Crossroads Keiichi Tsunekawa, Yasuyuki Todo, 2018-11-30 This book is open access under a CC BY NC ND license This volume analyzes the economic social and political challenges that emerging states confront today Notwithstanding the growing importance of the emerging states in global affairs and governance many problems requiring immediate solutions have emerged at home largely as a consequence of the rapid economic development and associated sociopolitical changes The middle income trap is a major economic challenge faced by emerging states This volume regards interest coordination for technological upgrading as crucial to avoid the trap and examines how various emerging states are grappling with this challenge by fostering public private cooperation voluntary associations of market players and or social networks Social disparity is another serious problem It is deeply rooted in history in the emerging states such as South Africa and many Latin American countries However income distribution is recently deteriorating even in East Asia that was once praised for its high economic growth with equity Increasing pressure for political opening is another challenge for emerging states This volume argues that the economic social and political problems are interwoven in the sense that the emerging states need to build political consensus in order to tackle the economic and social difficulties Democratic institutions have not always been successful in this respect

Privatization in Malaysia Jeff Tan, 2007-10-02 In recent years privatisation has fallen out of favour in many countries because the underlying political factors have not been well understood This book examines Malaysia s privatisation programme focusing on how political constraints resulted in the failure of four major privatisations the national sewerage company IWK Kuala Lumpur Light Rail Transit LRT national airline MAS and national car company Proton It considers why developing countries such as Malaysia might want to embark on privatisation the factors that lead to policy failure and what is needed to make it work It shows clearly that political motives driving privatisation often dominate purely economic considerations and thus it is necessary to analyse privatisation within the specific country context It argues that failure in the Malaysian case was due to political considerations that compromised institutional design and regulatory enforcement leading to problems associated with corruption It concludes that privatisation does not necessarily improve incentives for efficiency or enhance the finance available for capital investment and that successful privatisation depends on the state s institutional and political capacity to design and manage an appropriate set of subsidies Overall this book is a comprehensive examination of privatisation in Malaysia providing important insights for understanding the political economy of this process in other developing countries

Multinationals, Technology and Localization in Automotive Firms in Asia Rajah Rasiah, Yuri Sadoi, Rogier Busser, 2013-10-18 East Asia

has led rapid economic growth in the last few decades with India joining them over the last five years Automotive parts manufacturers have been an important component of domestic production in all these economies Experts with several years of multi disciplinary research experience on the field examine the actual and potential technological and localization implications of MNC operations in East Asia and India The rich collection of country experiences are both original and incisive This volume includes Case studies from China Japan India Thailand and Malaysia A study of the role of multinationals in Asian technology building An examination of the growing Chinese automobile sector Featuring leading academics from across Asia this title is essential reading for those studying industrial growth in the continent s major economies
