

Section-A

Q.1

Read the passage below and answer the questions that follow:

(10 Marks)

We adopt different styles of reading in different situations. The technique we choose depends on the purpose of our reading. For instance, the way we read the newspaper is quite different from the way we look up the telephone directory.

When we read the newspaper in the morning, we don't usually read it word-by-word. Instead we 'skim' the text- i.e. look at the 20 odd pages quickly to get a general idea of the main news. This reading technique is called 'skimming'. Skimming is used to read a text quickly in order to understand its main ideas or important points. Skimming is done at a speed three to four times faster than normal reading. We often skim when we have lots of material to read in a limited amount of time. Skimming helps us to decide whether the text is interesting or useful and whether we should read it in more detail later. Skimming thus requires the ability to distinguish accurately and rapidly between what is important and what is not or less important.

When we need only a superficial knowledge of the subject, or only the gist of it, we can skim the material. But if we need a moderate level of information on a subject, or need to get specific information from a text then we have to 'scan' the text. Scanning is also a fast reading technique of finding quickly the answer to a particular question. It's way of reading to look for specific information in a text. Scanning can be used to look up a word in a dictionary, to read through the ads in a newspaper, or for browsing TV schedules, timetables, lists, catalogues or web pages for information. For these tasks we don't need to read or understand every word.

- What is the passage about?
- What determines our choice of reading technique?
- What is skimming and how is it useful?
- What is scanning and when do we use it?
- Compare and contrast the two reading techniques discussed in the passage.

Q.2

Make a précis of the following passage in about 75 words and give it an appropriate title:

(10 Marks)

We are citizens of no mean country and we are proud of the land of our birth, of our people, our culture and traditions. That pride should not be for a romanticized past to which we want to cling on; nor should it encourage exclusiveness or want of appreciation of other ways than ours. It must never allow us to forget our many weaknesses and failings or blunt our longing to be rid of them. We have a long way to go and much leeway to make up before we can take our proper station with others in the van of human civilization and progress. And we have to hurry, for the time at our disposal is limited and the pace of the world grows even swifter. It was India's way in the past to welcome and absorb other cultures. That is much more necessary today, for we march to the One World of tomorrow where national cultures will be intermingled with the international culture of the human race. We shall therefore seek wisdom and knowledge and friendship and comradeship wherever we can find them, and cooperate with others in common tasks, but we are no supplicants for others' favours and patronage. Thus we shall remain true Indians and Asians, and become at the same time good internationalists and world citizens.

Q.3

Write a letter in about 200 words on one of the following:

(10 Marks)

- Write a letter to the editor of a national newspaper about the impact of corruption on the nation and what we as citizens can do to fight the menace.
- Write a letter to the Minister for Surface Transport highlighting the urgent need for improving Road Safety and suggesting measures to reduce the number of road accidents.
