Sandf Recruits 2015

Lindy Heinecken

Sandf Recruits 2015:

South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heineken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994. In South Africa's changed political state, how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy? This book presents an overview of the security environment, how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement, force preparation, force employment and force sustainability. The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force, the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy, recruitment and retention, military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment, gender equality and mainstreaming the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged. HIV/AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness. In closing, the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation, spelling out some lessons learned. The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence, security and civil-military relations of countries around the world.

Silencing the Guns in Africa Antonio Garcia, Jacob Udo-Udo Jacob, 2025-03-14 The scholarship of this book is drawn from local and international experts by framing critically a number of discourses on matters of security, conflict, violence and peace on the African continent. It is indeed a breath of fresh air to the scientific community, largely because it contributes to the on-going debates on security issues. Dr Ntsikelelo Benjamin Breakfast, Director of the Center for Security, Peace and Conflict Resolution at Nelson Mandela University. This book makes a deep contribution to scholarly literature on conflict studies, peacekeeping and peacebuilding in Africa. Written largely from the perspective of the applied social sciences, it is empirically rich and offers refreshing insights into social behaviour in military contexts. This is a timely contribution because current public discourse in South Africa is centred on the gains and missed opportunities of thirty years of democracy and new lenses are welcome. Many of the chapters reflect South African experiences. This is to be welcomed as it demonstrates that scholars and practitioners from the country are reflecting on the complexities of South African experiences of defence and security matters in contemporary times. Dr Sandy Africa, Director of Research at Mapungubwe Institute for Strategic Reflection (MISTRA). This volume brings together the voices of scholars and practitioners, a diverse group of writers who are passionate about and committed to creating a safer, more prosperous and peaceful Africa. Each with their own specialism, this work combines many different world views and approaches. Conflict in Africa is an impossibly broad topic to cover in a single edited publication and so we focus on a select number of case studies, expositions and themes.
