programme at the University of Bern and made my reworking of the thesis into a book in English possible. He also provided the funding for the services of a professional copy editor Margareta Simons Bern. The findings presented in this book are closely related to the general results of the SNF project which are published elsewhere; the source material can be consulted in an earlier monograph and in an electronic edition on the internet. The theoretical approach will be more thoroughly investigated in a textbook on the analysis of scientific illustrations. In addition, this study has made use of theoretical concepts developed by Gerd Grahn which in their latest form have yet to be published; these concern primarily the model concept discussed in Chapter 3. The criteria put forward for optimizing scientific illustrations which are dealt with in Chapter 7 were also originally proposed by Gerd Grahn; they were refined and elaborated in the SNF project. Some of the material on the copying links presented in this book was first published in 2 an article in Studies in History and Philosophy of Science Part C while some of the material in Chapter 5 on the hand colouring of illustration was 3 published prior to this book in the Annals of Science. I was able to access source material for this study from several archives and 4 institutions. Most of the images that I examined originated from copies held in the University Library Göttingen while the remaining illustrations came 1.
