Conversation Analysis and Early Childhood Education Amanda Bateman, 2016-03-03 This book provides insight into the everyday activities co produced by teachers and young children demonstrating the fine details of teaching and learning as knowledge is shared through the everyday activities of talk in interaction Adopting an ethnomethodological perspective together with conversation analysis and membership categorisation analysis it reveals how teaching and learning are jointly accomplished during activities such as pretend play episodes during disputes managing illness and talking about the environment Through in depth studies of child teacher interactions the book explores the means by which knowledge is transferred and episodes of teaching and learning are co constructed by participants shedding light on the co production of social order the communication of knowledge and manner in which professional and relational identities are made relevant in interaction As such Conversation Analysis and Early Childhood Education will be of interest not only to scholars of ethnomethodology and conversation analysis but also to those working in the areas of early childhood studies and pedagogy      Socialization: Parent-Child Interaction in Everyday Life Sara Keel,2016-03-17 Adopting a conversation analytic approach informed by ethnomethodology this book examines the process of socialization as it takes place within everyday parent child interactions Based on a large audio visual corpus featuring footage of families filmed extensively in their homes the author focuses on the initiation of interactive assessment sequences on the part of young children with their parents and the manner in which by means of embodied resources such as talk gaze and gesture they acquire communicative skills and a sense of themselves as effective social actors With attention to the responses of parents and their understanding of their children s participation in exchanges and the implications of these for children s communication this book sheds new light on the ways in which parents and children achieve shared understanding how they deal with matters of alignment or disalignment and issues related to their respective membership categories As a rigorous and detailed study of children s early socialization as well as the structural and embodied organization of communicative sequences Socialization Parent Child Interaction in Everyday Life will appeal to scholars of sociology and child development with interests in ethnomethodology and conversation analysis early years socialization and the sociology of family life

The Routledge International Handbook of Ethnomethodology Andrew P. Carlin,Alex Dennis,K. Neil Jenkins,Oskar Lindwall,Michael Mair,2025-03-31 This volume offers a comprehensive overview of the most pressing issues and developments in the field of ethnomethodology including ethnomethodological conversation analysis and highlights new and emerging areas for research With truly authoritative coverage of the state of the art including current debates methodological issues emerging topics for inquiry new perspectives on established topics empirical studies and resources for study The Routledge International Handbook of Ethnomethodology features lively challenging discussions by a diverse range of international practitioners that will provide readers with unrivalled scholarship on ethnomethodology and conversation analysis for years to come Sections include Contexts and New Resources Theoretical Orientations Study Approaches Lay and Professional Analysis and Areas of Application Moving past the focus on Garfinkel s discovery of the field as a domain of study in the 1950s and acknowledging how ethnomethodology has changed since then by accounting for both the phenomenologically informed and Wittgensteinian emphases in ethnomethodology this Handbook constitutes an important update on the study and complexity of the topic As such The Routledge International Handbook of Ethnomethodology will be a valuable point of reference for students and scholars across the fields of sociology communication and science studies interaction studies language and linguistics among others

Deconstructing Ethnography Graham Button, Andy Crabtree, Mark Rouncefield, Peter Tolmie, 2015-10-15 This book aims to deconstruct ethnography to alert systems designers and other stakeholders to the issues presented by new approaches that move beyond the studies of work and work practice within the social sciences in particular anthropology and sociology The theoretical and methodological apparatus of the social sciences distort the social and cultural world as lived in and understood by ordinary members whose common sense understandings shape the actual milieu into which systems are placed and used In Deconstructing Ethnography the authors show how new calls are returning systems design to old and problematic ways of understanding the social They argue that systems design can be appropriately grounded in the social through the ordinary methods that members use to order their actions and interactions This work is written for post graduate students and researchers alike as well as design practitioners who have an interest in bringing the social to bear on design in a systematic rather than a piecemeal way This is not a how to book but instead elaborates the foundations upon which the social can be systematically built into the design of ubiquitous and interactive systems

People, Technology, and Social Organization Dirk vom Lehn, Will Gibson, Natalia Ruiz-Junco, 2023-10-19 This insightful and accessible book is a response to the increasingly important role that technology plays in everyday life and the urgent need for empirical studies that analyse the impact of technology on social practices The chapters in this co edited collection reveal how technology is oriented to and embedded within the social organization of action in a wide range of settings and institutions including education markets arts and culture health and social care media politics and science In their analyses the contributing authors adopt interactionist perspectives to explore how the meanings of technology emerge and are negotiated within and through action and interaction The volume comprises 14 empirical chapters from authors working in fields such as symbolic interactionism ethnomethodology conversation analysis discourse methods ethnographic enquiry video based methods and others The chapters are framed by an introduction and a concluding discussion by the co editors which draws out the key themes and issues that the individual chapters speak to and show the importance of these themes for the social sciences and for society The book is primarily aimed at researchers in the social sciences including sociology social psychology organization studies and beyond whose work is concerned with the interplay between social interaction technology and institutions

Harold Garfinkel: Studies of Work in the Sciences Harold Garfinkel, 2022-04-25 This volume includes an unpublished manuscript and selected portions of five seminars by Harold Garfinkel the founder of ethnomethodology on the topic of practices in the natural sciences and mathematics The volume provides a coherent and sustained account of his program for the study of ordinary and specialized social actions Presenting broader theoretical and methodological initiatives as well as discussions and summaries of exemplary studies of social phenomena within and beyond the sciences this work dates to the period in the 1980s during which the field of Science and Technology Studies was taking shape with ethnomethodological studies of scientific practice forming a major part of its development at the time. Aside from their historical importance, the manuscript and seminars present a distinctive perspective on the natural and social sciences that remains highly original and pertinent to research on science, social science, and everyday life today. Offering critical insights and proposals relating to developments in Ethnomethodology and Conversation Analysis, this volume will appeal to scholars of Sociology and Science and Technology Studies with interests in the work of Garfinkel. Ethnomethodology, Conversation Analysis and Constructive Analysis Graham Button, Michael Lynch, Wes Sharrock, 2022-09-23. This book revisits the arguments by which Harvey Sacks and Harold Garfinkel opposed the widespread attempt in the social sciences to construct disciplinary theories and methods in place of common sense knowledge of human action and proposed instead an alternative that would investigate the organised methods of natural language use and common sense reasoning that constitute social orders. Arguments that led to the establishment and proliferation of ethnomethodology and conversation analysis. As the very constructive analysis that they opposed has begun to be incorporated into influential lines of research in ethnomethodology and conversation analysis, the authors return to the founding insights of the field and reiterate the importance of Garfinkel and Sacks' original and controversial proposals for an alternate sociology of practical action and practical reasoning. Showing how constructive analysis has become entrenched in ethnomethodology and conversation analysis and arguing for a need to reboot these approaches, this volume constitutes a call for a renewal of the radical alternative proposed by Garfinkel and Sacks.

Ethnomethodology at Work Peter Tolmie, 2016-04-22. Bringing together one of the most important bodies of research into people's working practices, this volume outlines the specific character of the ethnomethodological approach to work, providing an introduction to the key conceptual resources ethnomethodology has drawn upon in its studies and a set of substantive chapters that examine how people work from a foundational perspective. With contributions from leading experts in the field including Graham Button, John Hughes, and Wes Sharrock, Ethnomethodology at Work explores the contribution that ethnomethodological studies continue to make to our understanding of the ways in which people actually accomplish work from day to day. As such, it will appeal not only to those working in the areas of ethnomethodology and conversation analysis but also to those with interests in the sociology of work and organisations.
