Teacher: Emily Wagenhauser		Subject/Grade: Reading/1st grade
Date: 5/24/16		Title of the Lesson: Text Feature Hunting
Lesson Essential Question: What are the informational text features we can use when we read non-fiction books?		Topic or Big Idea: Reading informational texts
Unit Essential Question: How can students become successful readers and comprehenders of informational texts?
Goal:	The students will be able to correctly identify several types of text features while looking through a nonfiction, informational book at a first grade reading level. Standards (1c: Setting Instructional Outcomes)
Resources/Materials:	- Variety of informational texts on different topics - Text feature hunt worksheet - Chart paper - Markers - Mentor text to read with students: "Emperor Penguins Up Close" by Carmen Bredeson (1d: Demonstrating Knowledge of Resources)
Anticipated Misunderstandings	Students may have difficulty with knowing the difference between fiction and nonfiction texts. We will discuss together what makes an informational book special. Students may also have difficulty with matching text features to their proper name. Visuals will be provided to help students be successful in learning the names of each feature. (1a: Demonstrating Knowledge of Content and Pedagogy)
Learning Standards:	CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.RI.1.5 Know and use various text features (e.g., headings, tables of contents, glossaries, electronic menus, icons) to locate key facts or information in a text. CCSS.ELA-LITERACY.RI.1.9 Identify basic similarities in and differences between two texts on the same topic (e.g., in illustrations, descriptions, or procedures). (1a: Knowledge of Content and Pedagogy, 1c: Setting Instructional Outcomes)

Educational Assessment in Latin America Sue Swaffield,Sally M Thomas,2019-07-23 This collection presents educational assessment research from Latin America adding to a relatively small but growing body of research considering educational assessment and evaluation issues in this large region The predominance of Chile reflects its early highly centralized education system and the fact that it adopted national testing before other Latin American countries It was also an early participant in international assessment programmes Other countries have followed the trend of implementing national testing and to a lesser extent participating in international surveys The complementary development of technical expertise in quantitative research methods has enabled extensive analysis of the large data sets generated by these testing and assessment programmes Taken together the evidence reported provides a means not only of reviewing educational quality issues in Latin America but also of facilitating comparisons that allow the context specificity of equivalent research conducted in western developed countries to be considered The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Assessment in Education Principles Policy and Practice

Principals and Teachers Can't Do It All Charles A. Bonnici, 2020-12-15 Today the entire success of a school seems to be the responsibility of the principal and the teachers The thesis of this book is that principals and teachers can only take a school so far because of other factors that also impact on the success or failure of a school

- 1 Federal state local and district regulations and policies
- 2 the physical plant and location of the school 3 parents 4 students 5 the non teaching staff The book explores all these but also has an underlying theme Money It is a cliché that if a school has more money it will have better results Monies allocated to education do have an impact but poverty level and income inequality have an equal if not greater impact on school success on the national state and local levels Principals and teachers have absolutely no control on poverty and income inequality which negatively impact schools regardless of how dedicated and hard working the pedagogical staff After exploring the other factors impacting on school success the book will look at teachers and principals not from the viewpoint of what they can do but the viewpoint of their limitations Much of this is economic leading to high staff turnover and therefore a lack of continuity in a school Fostering the Emotional Well-Being of Our Youth Philip J. Lazarus, Shannon Suldo, Shannon M. Suldo, Beth Doll, 2021 Redefining mental health to both promote psychological well being as well as treat psychopathological disorders is a game changer for school mental health Fostering the Emotional Well Being of Our Youth describes what this paradigm shift means for school mental health practices why the promotion of students well being is so important how this new paradigm will change day to day practices of school mental health professionals and what the outcomes will be for students educators and the schools The book s chapters are written by some of the foremost researchers and scholars in school mental health practices and their work will shape the profession s adaption and application of dual factor mental health in future decades Physical
