Border Poetics in German and Polish Literature Karolina May-Chu, 2024 Examines how political borders are intertwined with less concrete borders such as those of ethnicity gender or class and how these entanglements are represented in contemporary novels that reimagine the German Polish borderlands as cosmopolitan spaces Globalization notwithstanding we live in an age of borders as the ongoing conflict at Europe s eastern edge reminds us Borders are meant to protect but they also divide and exclude This book however focuses on literature that pushes back against the divisiveness of borders advocating for transborder connections and criticizing exclusionary boundaries It examines novels that reimagine the German Polish borderlands as cosmopolitan spaces novels by Nobel Prize winners Olga Tokarczuk and G unter Grass as well as by authors less well known internationally the Polish Inga Iwasi ow the German Tanja D uckers and the German Polish Sabrina Janesch The book utilizes and elaborates the concept of border poetics a narrative and cultural practice that places political borders in relation to less concrete borders such as those of gender ethnicity or class as well as in relation to epistemological and ontological boundaries of language knowledge even reality Because border poetics rests on the same productive tension between the particular and the universal that drives contemporary notions of cosmopolitanism the book argues for the practice as an instance of what sociologist Gerard Delanty has termed cosmopolitan imagination The richly contextualized analysis is framed within transnational German Studies and draws on border studies cosmopolitanism European literature and world literature Proceedings of the ... Annual Meeting Western New York Horticultural Society, 1905 Indigenous Identity Formation in Postsecondary Institutions

Barbara G. Barnes, Cora J. Voyageur, 2020-10-25 A new model of Indigenous identity formation in Canadian postsecondary institutions What role does postsecondary education play in the formation of Indigenous identity Some argue that this impact must be negative not only because postsecondary education draws students away from their communities but also because of the Eurocentric worldviews that dominate most institutions However according to a ground breaking study by Barbara Barnes and Cora Voyageur the truth is much more nuanced and surprising During their research Professors Barnes and Voyageur followed 60 Indigenous students from a variety of backgrounds at six postsecondary institutions in western Canada and they present their finding here They explore how the students experiences fit with conventional and Indigenous identity formation theories and they consider the impacts of colonization and the Indian Act Based on the experiences of the students Barnes and Voyageur build an entirely new model of Indigenous identity formation in Canadian postsecondary institutions

Dr. Webster's complete dictionary of the English language Noah Webster, 1864 Wartime Culture in Guilin, 1938-1944 Pingchao Zhu, 2015-10-30 This book examines the development of wartime culture in the city of Guilin Guangxi Province in southwestern China during a major part of the country's war of resistance against Japanese invasion between 1938 and 1944 This study challenges existing historiography on China's wartime culture at three levels First the Guangxi warlord group played a crucial role in maintaining regional security providing a liberalized political environment for wartime cultural activities and facilitating wartime nationalist communist relations at both local and national levels Second wartime culture was more literary than political and it reflected a powerful intellectual vigor that was an indispensable component of China's war efforts Intellectuals of different social and political backgrounds were their own organic selves feeling no pressure to come to intellectual consensus in literary production Third wartime culture was characterized by the active participation of many international groups political organizations and foreign individuals The literary works produced in Guilin between 1938 and 1944 clearly reflected a combination of Chinese national and international anti fascist and anti military sentiment Chinese literary masterpieces were translated into different foreign languages and noted foreign literature and political works were introduced to Chinese audiences through various cultural and political exchange programs in the city The Queen's Gamble Barbara Kyle, 2011-08-30 Young Queen Elizabeth I's path to the throne has been a perilous
