Commercial Agency, Franchise and Distribution Contracts (PEL CAFDC) Martijn Willem Hesselink,2006 The rules presented in this volume of Principles of European Law deal with commercial agency franchise and distribution contracts and with other contracts where one party uses the other party s skill and efforts to bring its products to the market Although these Principles are not directly applicable to other long term commercial contracts some of the Articles may be applied to such contracts by way of analogy where appropriate The economic function of all three contracts is that they are instrumental in bringing products to the market They are so called vertical agreements as they are agreements between economic actors on different levels in the production and distribution chain Obviously the economic importance of these contracts is enormous since they form the connection between producers and retailers who sell the products to consumers and other final users There are only very few economic sectors where producers regularly sell their products directly to final consumer users Goodwill compensation after the ending of a distribution contract the moment at which the agent s commission is due the franchisor s obligation to maintain the good reputation of the network are but a few examples of issues where specific rules are needed in order to give legal practice some guidance and to provide practitioners with a reasonable degree of legal certainty Catalogue of the Splendid and Valuable Library of the Late John Rennie, Esq. ... The Biology of Numbers Giorgio Israel, Ana M.

Gasca, 2013-03-07 Foreword The modern developments in mathematical biology took place roughly between 1920 and 1940 a period now referred to as the Golden Age of Theoretical Biology The eminent Italian mathematician Vito Volterra played a decisive and widely acknowledged role in these developments Volterra's interest in the application of mathematics to the non physical sciences and to biology and economics in particular dates back to the turn of the century and was expressed in his inaugural address at the University of Rome for the academic year 1900-01 VOLTERRA 1901 Nevertheless it was only in the mid twenties that Volterra entered the field in person at the instigation of his son in law Umberto D Ancona who had confronted him with the problem of competition among animal species asking him whether a mathematical treatment was possible From that time on until his death in 1940 Volterra produced a huge output of publications on the subject Volterra's specific project was to transfer the model and the concepts of classical mechanics to biology constructing a sort of rational mechanics and an analytic mechanics of biological associations The new subject was thus to be equipped with a solid experimental or at least empirical basis also in this case following the tried and tested example of mathematical physics Although very few specific features of this reductionist programme have actually survived Volterra's contribution was decisive as is now universally acknowledged in encouraging fresh studies in the field of mathematical biology
