The Indonesian Way Jürgen Rüland,2017-12-12

On December 31 2015 the ten member Association of Southeast Asian Nations ASEAN ushered in a new era with the founding of the ASEAN Community AC The culmination of 12 years of intensive preparation the AC was both a historic initiative and an unprecedented step toward the area's regional integration. Political commentators and media outlets, however, greeted its establishment with little fanfare. Implicitly and explicitly, they suggested that the AC was only the beginning. Southeast Asia, they seemed to say, was taking its first steps on a linear process of unification that would converge on the model of the European Union. In The Indonesian Way, Jürgen R. Land challenges this previously unquestioned diffusion of European norms. Focusing on the reception of ASEAN in Indonesia, R. Land traces how foreign policy stakeholders in government, civil society, the legislature, academe, the press, and the business sector have responded to calls for ASEAN's Europeanization, ultimately fusing them with their own distinctly Indonesian form of regionalism. His analysis reframes the nature of ASEAN as well as the discipline of international relations, more broadly writing a narrative of regional integration and norm diffusion that breaks free of Eurocentric thought.

Charting a Sustainable Future of ASEAN in Business and Social Sciences Naginder Kaur, Mahyudin Ahmad, 2020-07-23

This volume showcases selected conference papers addressing the sustainable future of ASEAN from the perspectives of business and social science disciplines. In addressing the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) envisioned by the United Nations in the domains of environment, health, and well-being, posing potential means of reducing inequalities globally, the authors target specific issues and challenges confronting the fast-growing region of ASEAN and present suggestions for co-operation and commitment from governments, non-governmental organisations, NGOs, and society at large in line with the ASEAN Vision 2020. Papers are selected from the 3rd International Conference on the Future of ASEAN (ICoFA 2019) organised by Universiti Teknologi MARA in Malaysia, whose conference theme, Charting the Sustainable Future of ASEAN, enables intellectual discourse on sustainability issues from business and the social sciences as well as science and technology. The selection of papers is published in two volumes comprising scholarly and practical insights into sustainability in ASEAN. This first volume of papers from business and social science scholars will be of interest to researchers and policymakers interested in sustainability developments in the ASEAN region.
