But now fuel is costly and companies dole it out by the teaspoonful They dispatch us with minimal fuel reserves based on the reliability claims of weather forecasts I wonder if meteorology departments ever overstate the validity of their predictions to justify the multi millions spent on technical equipment and super computers Or is this just another example of my old pilot skepticism morphing into cynicism Corriveau shares intimate details with typical humor and candor An old aviation maxim says We don t fly until the weight of the paper equals the weight of the pilot And just like my waistline the paperwork has increased over the years once on board the datalink will start spitting out paper like well like it grows on trees First Officer Paula hoists about an elm and a half off of the counter and we make our way back over to the luggage rack I hear the sounds of galley doors and storage units slamming shut behind me I glimpse someone in the jetway swinging the main cabin door closed It must be time to go Here s your boarding pass now hurry Don t miss this golden opportunity to sit in the flight deck and view the job of an airline pilot from the inside out 3 Feet to the Left Korry Franke,2018-09-30 What s it really like to be a new airline captain How does it feel to be ultimately responsible for a 100 million jet its crew and the lives of its passengers And how does one remain calm while battling mechanical malfunctions in the flight simulator thunderstorms in Mexico City or blizzards in Chicago Find out for yourself when you strap in to the extra flight deck jumpseat and fly along with 31 year old Korry Franke in this vivid fast paced memoir about his eventful first year as a United Airlines 737 captain Experience the challenges insecurities successes and failures of a new leader stepping up and taking command for the first time in the high stakes world of airline flying And along the way discover that while 3 FEET TO THE LEFT is a story about Korry it s really a story about all of us Because in one way or another we are all on our own journeys 3 feet to the left
