McCanna-Porter,2024-04-02 Contemporary art must get inspiration from somewhere In Tea Automatons and Time Machines the subculture of Steampunk art is studied in relation to art history Addressing three main topics within social and environmental justice a comparison of art styles and creativity stems from an artist s passion within popular culture Using arts based research methods and personal introspection viewed through the lens of nostalgia a unique perspective of art history studies comes to life Nostalgia being primarily a psychological study is used as a lens to view art culture and memoir into a complete research project We live in a world in need of change Historically artists have provided a means for change through their work and the lives they choose to live The vastness of art history provides plenty of room for inspiration and interpretation In this study the contemporary sub culture of Steampunk looks nostalgically at Arts and Crafts Art Nouveau and Art Deco eras in a way that paves the way for social change and environmental preservation using fantasy cos play and art to demonstrate needed changes Through the art and culture of Steampunk we explore areas that could use improvement in our modern world and yet they do tie in with similar occurrences of the past We find that we re not that different but with art and demonstration we too can make positive changes for our future
