Small reservoirs in Africa: a review and synthesis to strengthen future investment Saruchera, D.,Lautze, Jonathan,2019-11-04 Limits to Climate Change Adaptation Walter Leal Filho,Johanna Nalau,2017-11-15 This book sheds new light on the limits of adaptation to anthropogenic climate change The respective chapters demonstrate the variety of and interconnections between factors that together constitute the constraints on adaptation The book pays special attention to evidence that illustrates how and where such limits have become apparent or are in the process of establishing themselves and which indicates future trends and contexts that might prove helpful in understanding adaptation limits In particular the book provides an overview of the most important challenges and opportunities regarding adaptation limits at different temporal jurisdictional and spatial scales while also highlighting case studies projects and best practices that show how they may be addressed The book presents innovative multi disciplinary research and gathers evidence from various countries sectors and regions the goal being to advance our understanding of the limits to adaptation and ways to overcome or modify them Book Review Index ,2006 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation The State of African Cities 2008 ,2008 With rapidly increasing urban populations cities in Africa are faced with enormous challenges and will have to find ways to facilitate by 2015 urban services livelihoods and housing for more than twice as many urban dwellers than it has today A worrying trend with the African urbanization process is that it is a process rooted in poverty rather than an industrialization induced socio economic transition as in other major world urban regions Africas escalating urban problems have received less attention than warranted and now at the dawn of Africas urban age these need to be addressed publisher

Climate Change, Assets and Food Security in Southern African Cities Bruce Frayne,Caroline Moser,Gina Ziervogel,2013-03-01 There is overwhelming evidence that the climate is changing It is the poorest countries and people who are the most vulnerable to this threat and who will suffer the most This book shows how increasing urbanization and growing poverty levels mean that it is imperative to ask how climate change might impact on asset accumulation and food security for the urban poor It demonstrates how these three often separate foci can be brought together to frame a holistic urban adaptation approach Furthermore although much has been written about climate change limited evidence exists in southern Africa of how climate change has been integrated in urban planning The authors explore the urban climate change nexus linking asset adaptation climate change science and food security through several case study cities These include Cape Town George and Khara Hais South Africa Lusaka Zambia Maputo Mozambique Mombasa Kenya and Harare Zimbabwe The results shed light on how this nexus might be explored from different perspectives both theoretical and practical in order to plan for a more resilient future Climate Change Assets and Food Security in Southern African Cities comprises ten chapters which focus on southern African cities with each chapter written by highly experienced academics research focused practitioners and professional planners Although the book concentrates on southern African cities the insights which are presented can be used to understand other urban centres in low and middle income countries outside of this region and around the world
