Pirate Queen Penelope Takes On The Royal Navy:

The Royal Navy List, 1880 Royal Navy List, 1905 The Royal Navy, China Station: 1864 - 1941 Jonathan Parkinson, 2018-02-20 A definitive history of the Royal Navy's China Station In the The Navy List for April 1864 the China Station was first shown as a separate Royal Navy Station It remained as such until the outbreak of the Pacific War in December 1941 which was to signal the end of that era In addition to a precis of the lives and naval careers of each of the Commanders in Chief of the China Station this volume also gives relevant information outlining something of the concurrent internal affairs of China and Japan Both are very different but sad tales the former in decline towards the end of the Manchu Ching dynasty and then into the chaotic 1920s and 1930s and the latter increasingly adopting a militaristic attitude which was to result in their disaster of the Pacific War of 1941-1945 As a reminder of these days long gone are interwoven brief references to the British Consular Service This is especially relevant for China and for a shorter period for Japan during that era of extraterritoriality Mention is also made of the British Colonial Service with whom necessarily the Navy worked very closely In addition being one important reason for it all frequent references are made to a few British shipping and trading interests together with those of some other nations All of these areas are linked together to give a definitive history of this very important Royal Navy Station The New Navy List..., 1852 A Naval Biographical Dictionary William R. O'Byrne, 1849 The Naval History of Great Britain William James, 1837 A Naval Biographical Dictionary - Volume 1 William R. O'Byrne, 2012-02-06 Volume 1 of 3 Originally published in 1849 this work gives details of the life and services of every living officer in Her Majesty's Navy who was serving or had retired by 1845 nearly 5 000 officers in all Generally acknowledged as the most comprehensive work of its kind it was a considerable undertaking for one man to piece together such detailed biographies This information was compiled from official records and from details supplied by the officers themselves The service details found on every page reflect the centuries old naval traditions of devotion to duty and great bravery in the face of danger They also provide information on the many naval actions that were fought at the end of the eighteenth and first half of nineteenth centuries Coincidentally the original publication took place during the year of issue of what is now referred to as the Naval General Service Medal In 1847 Queen Victoria authorised this award to be struck to record the services of naval officers and men who took part in various actions between 1793 and 1815 later extended to 1840 The award was limited to those who were alive at the time of the announcement Over 200 Naval actions were commemorated on clasps to this medal details of these and a considerable number of other engagements are to be found throughout this volume Over the century and a half since its publication this work has established itself as an essential reference work for naval historians and for a wider section of the public who are in search of their naval ancestry Royal Navy List, Diary, and Navy Handbook, 1900 The Naval History of Great Britain from the Declaration of War by France in 1793 to the Accession of George IV. New Ed William I James, 1837 The Naval History of Great Britain, from the Declaration of

War by Trace in 1793, to the Accession of George IV William James, 1847
