Keeping a reflective learning journal

You may want to consider keeping a learning journal, as a form of informal, regular reflection. Below is an example of one way of approaching it.

Example entry in a learning journal

Event	Attended first ever seminar
What did I learn?	Discussing ideas made me realise there are many ways of reading a piece of literature. I was surprised by other people's interpretations, but the ones who convinced me were those who linked their interpretations to specific parts of the text.
What went well?	Made some contributions. They were mainly responses to other people's ideas but I was glad I took part and it made me think more deeply about the novel.
What could I have done better?	Could have been braver in forming own interpretations. Had a preconception that there was a right or wrong way to read the text. In future I want to open my mind more.
Long-term implications	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> * Now realise that there are many ways of reading a text - and if you can find evidence, you can convince people of your perspective * Useful for essays - putting forward a unique viewpoint is possible as long as you have persuasive reasoning.
