Child Protection in the Church Michael A. Guerzoni, 2021-07-05 Child Protection in the Church investigates whether amidst publicised promises of change from church institutions and the introduction of safe church policies and procedures reform is actually occurring within Christian churches towards safeguarding using a case study of the Anglican Diocese of Tasmania Australia Through the use of interviews and document analysis the book provides an insight into the attitudes and practices of ordinary clergy persons towards child sexual abuse and safeguarding to understand how safe ministry is understood and executed in everyday life in the Church and to what extent it aligns with policy requirements and criminological best practice It adopts organisational culture theory the perspective used to explain how clerical culture enabled and concealed child sexual abuse in the Church to the present in order to understand how clerical attitudes cognition and practice conduct today is being shaped by some of the same negative cultures Underlying these cultures is misunderstandings of abuse causation which are shown here to negatively shape clerical practice and at times compromise policy and procedural requirements Providing an insight into the lived reality of safeguarding within churches and highlighting the ongoing complexities of safe ministry the book is a useful companion to students academics and practitioners of child protection and organisational studies alongside clergy church leaders and those training for the ministry Getting Heard but Not Listened To Cristiane Bená Dias,2021-01-15 This book examines the process of Environmental Impact Assessment EIA in Brazil through the lens of community involvement The author argues that the implementation of controversial projects such as the Volta Grande mining project demonstrate the failure of the current system to acknowledge the interests of local communities Using international comparisons of public policy on environmental issues the author proposes a model which aims to improve public participation in Brazilian environmental decisions
